REBELS RELEASE PLANE CAPTIVES

2 Cuban Ships Hijacked In Air

One Of 31, Presumably Pilot Who Resisted, Seriously Wounded

By Larry Allen

Havana (AP)—The rebel high command announced Tuesday night it has released 25 passengers and 6 crewmen from 2 Cuban airliners hijacked in the air Oct. 21 and Nov. 5.

One, presumably the pilot who resisted the rebels' seizure in flight Oct. 21, was reported seriously wounded. With him were 2 other crewmen. The 11 passengers aboard the plane had been freed previously.

Earlier reports had said the pilot was shot when he tried to resist orders to land on a rebel air strip.

The rebels said all 31 persons were turned over to Red Cross representatives in eastern Cuba and that they arrived safely in Santiago Tuesday night.

Bad Faith Charged

The rebel announcement said the release was carried out despite a government breach of good faith during a cease-fire arranged for safe return of the captives.

The rebels said bad faith occurred when a Cuban Navy plane flew low over the place agreed on for transfer of the captives.

The insurgents claimed the Navy plane and pilot were intercepted and captured.

There was no explanation of how such a capture might have taken place.

The rebel tactic in seizing 3 Cubana airliners recently has been to overpower the crew in the air. The 3rd airliner crashed Nov. 1 in Nipe Bay, killing 17 persons, including 6 American citizens.

A 30-hour cease-fire was announced Sunday by the rebel high command for the Santiago area for releasing plane occupants to Red Cross representatives.

One American

Passengers aboard the plane seized Nov. 5 included one American, U.S. Navy airman Robert M. Montgomery of Miami, Fla. Another was Amado Cantillo, son of the Cuban Army commander in the Santiago district.

Raul Castro, brother of rebel chief Fidel Castro, said in a broadcast the insurgents expected an explanation from the government of the alleged cease-fire violation by the Navy plane. He said no more transfers of prisoners would be made until such a statement was received.

The rebels say they have about 200 Army prisoners they want to turn over to the Red Cross.

World Armament Case Wanted At Geneva

London (AP) — The Soviet Union told the United States Tuesday night the Geneva talks on prevention of surprise attack would be useless unless linked to disarmament steps.

A Soviet foreign ministry note was handed to the U. S. Embassy in Moscow. Radio Moscow said the note recalled previous Soviet statements that "the purpose of the meeting is to work out practical recommendations for measures to prevent a surprise attack, coupled with definite steps in disarmament."

"Without these steps it is useless to consider the question of preventing a surprise attack," the note said.

10-Nation Talks

The 10-nation talks on surprise attack problems opened in Geneva Monday.

So far the conference has been preoccupied with discussing an official title and the order of business.

The note also listed the Communist delegates attending the conference — 5 from the Soviet Union, 4 from Poland, 3 from Czechoslovakia, 3 from Romania and 4 from Albania.

May Never Agree

Geneva (AP) — Western delegates in two international conferences sought some indication Tuesday whether Russia ever will accept international observers on Soviet soil to enforce possible arms control agreements.

The West insists this is the heart of secret negotiations to obtain a controlled ban on nuclear weapon tests and to build safeguards against surprise attacks.

In the two negotiatoins running concurrently in Geneva's Palais des Nations the Russians have avoided committing themselves. Instead they have sparred with the western side on even the order of business for the conferences.

Reds Accept

There was some indication the Russians were prepared to settle down to business in the 10-nation talks on surprise attack problems. They accepted an official title for that conference avoiding any reference to cold war issues.

For the 2nd day running, the American, British and Russian delegations at the other conference — on ways of policing a nuclear test ban — met informally to see if they could agree on an agenda.

City Tree Trimming Crews Move Into 1958-59 Areas

Three city tree-trimming crews are now working in areas designated for the 1958-59 season after finishing up areas begun last year.

Park Supt. James Ager said the newly-designated areas, which he described as "badly needing attention," are:

—O to Holdrege from 19th to 27th.

—Holdrege to the Burlington Railroad right-of-way, 20th to 27th.

—D to Sumner, 30th to 40th.

Ager said 6,587 street Elms have been trimmed in the completed areas, including about 60 finished up by crews working this season. Average cost per tree trimmed was $5.22, computed on labor only.

He said the crews spent about a month and one-half finishing up the old areas before going into the new areas. Two crews began in the new areas last week, but the third crew started Tuesday.

The Council appropriated $41,000 for tree-trimming as a defensive measure against the approaching Dutch Elm disease as compared with $33,000 last year.

Ager said the 7-man crews work both sides of a street simultaneously for greater efficiency and block off street to traffic during operations.

He pointed out the crews cannot trim on private property or vary from their scheduled routes if a maximum effort is to be obtained from allocated funds.

Caril Expected To Take Stand Today In Her Own Defense

By Del Harding

Murder defendant Caril Fugate is expected to take the stand Wednesday to back up her hostage claim at her Lancaster District Court trial.

Defense Atty. John McArthur said she probably will be the first witness he will call, and indicated her testimony may take more than one day.

He said he plans to call about 20 witnesses, and that his case will take about one week.

First on Wednesday's schedule will be completion of the reading of Caril's 166-page statement by Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele. Scheele has only about 15 more pages to read. The statement is Caril's account of the winter murder rampage on which she accompanied Charles Starkweather.

She is charged as Starkweather's accomplice in the Jan. 27 murder of Robert Jensen, 17, of Bennet.

Caril and her attorney have claimed she was Starkweather's hostage during the rampage, and that she accompanied him because she feared for the lives of her family. But prosecution evidence has cast doubt on her claim that she did not know her family was dead until she was captured in Wyoming Jan. 29.

There was no court Tuesday, Veterans Day.

Chiang Is Kept Guessing

All-Out Shelling Is Threatened

Taipei, Formosa (Wednesday) (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry reported no Communist shelling of the Quemoy islands up to midmorning Wednesday.

The Nationalists were kept guessing whether the Reds intend to keep their self-imposed truce on even numbered days.

The Nationalists said the Reds had shouted a warning through loudspeakers that they might resume bombardments on even-numbered days after withholding their fire on the last 5 even days. Tuesday, an odd-numbered day, the Reds sprayed shells on the offshore islands.

The warning — so far not broadcast by Peiping Radio—was vague and did not make clear whether the supply areas on Quemoy would be shelled every day.

Since Oct. 25 the Reds have fired on supply areas only on odd numbered days. They said they would withhold their fire on such targets so that supplies could get through to civilians.

The original Peiping announcement declared only landing beaches and airfields immune but all the Communist guns have been silent in the last 5 even days.

The warning over the loudspeakers did not make clear whether it was a maneuver by the Red commander of the Fukien coastal area facing the Quemoys or was authorized at a high government level.

Gen. Wag Shu-ming, chief of the Nationalist general staff, laughed when asked his reation.

The Nationalists, he said, don't take the words of the Communists seriously anyway.

Russia, Poland Appeal

Joined In New Summit Talk Demands

Moscow (AP) — A new call for a summit conference was sounded Tuesday night by the Soviet Union and Poland.

They said its aim would be to solve problems of disarmament and strengthen world security.

A joint communique was issued here and in Warsaw after the windup of Moscow talks between Premier Khrushchev and Polish Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka.

It said: "The delegation of the Polish Peoples' Republic decidedly supports the Soviet proposal for a summit conference to examine and solve the most pressing problems of disarmament and to decide on steps to be taken to strengthen the security of Europe and the rest of the world."

In addition to making a bid for summit talks, the communique said it is necessary to strengthen the Warsaw Pact, the East European alliance set up as a counterbalance to NATO. Such action is necessary, the statement said, because of "delaying and dodging talks pursued in the 1st place by the U.S. government." It did not say what steps might be taken to strengthen the Warsaw lineup.

'Arsenal'

It declared the North Atlantic Treaty Organization seeks to turn western Europe into a "nuclear arms arsenal."

"The rapidly advancing militarization" of West Germany, including supplying of West German armed forces with atomic weapons and rockets, represents a threat to the peace and security of Europe, the statement said.

That was as close as it came to touching on Khrushchev's suggestion that the 3 western powers pull out of Berlin.

Khrushchev gave a farewell speech for his departing guests but he did not bring up Germany.

'More and More'

Gomulka in response, however, declared that in West Germany "militarist Hitlerite generals are raising their heads more and more."

The communique said the Soviet Union and Poland demand an immediate end to atomic weapons tests as the most important task of the great powers.

It hailed cooperation between the Soviet Union and Poland and said that in response to a request from the Polish delegation, the Soviet government had "agreed to render technical assistance in the development of several important branches of Poland's national economy."

In Washington, the State Department spokesman said there would be no comment Tuesday night on the summit proposal.

Vote Lead For Brooks Continues

Holiday Slows Ballot Counting

By The Associated Press

The battle of the mail ballots, on which depends the outcome of the tight race for governor of Nebraska, continued Tuesday with most of metropolitan Douglas County's absent and disabled voters ballots accounted for and little overall change in the margin held by Democrat Ralph Brooks over Republican Gov. Victor E. Anderson.

The Associated Press unofficial tabulations of the vote, including mail ballots from 30 counties give:

Anderson 207,013; Brooks 209,509—a margin of 2,496 for Brooks.

The disabled voters ballots were counted in Douglas County Tuesday afternoon, with 79 going to Anderson and 54 to Brooks. With about 25 absent voters ballots still out the total mail vote now stands in Douglas County: Anderson 705; Brooks 349.

AP tabulations show 2,678 mail votes counted and of these Anderson has 1,723 and Brooks 955.

Revisions Small

Small revisions of the vote cast in last week's election were made in the unofficial figures as counting boards made some changes in preparing the figures for the official canvass. Most of the county clerk's offices throughout the state were closed however because of the Veterans Day holiday.

Additional mail votes and revisions in the race for lieutenant governor came out exactly even leaving the margin of 3,199 votes of Republican Lieutenant Governor Dwight Burney over Democrat Frank Sorrell unchanged. Their new totals as of Tuesday noon:

Burney: 198,262, Sorrell 195,063.

In the race for state treasurer, however, the margin in favor of Richard R. Larsen, Democrat, narrowed to 3,707. The new totals: Monroe Bixler, Republican, 189,230; Larsen 192,937.

4 Injured In 2-Car Crash

Four persons stationed at Lincoln Air Force Base were injured early Wednesday morning in a head-on crash of two autos near the base on Hwy. 34.

According to base authorities the four were a Lt. Jensen, T. Sgt. Palm, S. Sgts. Palmarini and Brinkley.

Jensen suffered a broken leg and other injuries when his car rolled several times after the crash. He is in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The other men were taken to the base hospital where they were reported in good condition with facial cuts.

HIGHS TO BE IN 50'S TODAY

Partly cloudy skies and cooler temperatures are forecast for the state through Thursday.

Highs Wednesday are expected to be in the 50s, the Weather Bureau said.

Omaha registered a reading of 59 for the state high Tuesday. while Sidney and Scottsbluff both had the low of 26.

Lincoln Air Force Base had a high of 58 and a low of 42.

State Engineer Ress Says:

Highway Rating Might Become 'Impractical'

Springview — The possibility that Nebraska's highway sufficiency rating system could be found "impractical" in the future, was sounded Tuesday night by State Engineer L. N. Ress in an address to the Highway 12 Association meeting here.

Ress

Ress noted that the law establishing the sufficiency rating system "which has played a very important part in highway construction programs," is permissive in nature.

The law says the rating system shall be used "where practicable," Ress said.

"And, although the Highway Department today interprets that section as a requirement to apply the sufficiency rating system to all construction programs, it might well be found impractical to use the system as the law has intended," he added.

Defends System

Ress defended the system by noting that "because the elements which go into the calculation of sufficiency ratings come from existing records or observations by trained observors, the effects of political influence or personal opinion are eliminated."

Under the system each mile is rated to determine its needs in comparison with needs of other sections of the highways.

These ratings are "a most useful tool to the highway administrator," the state's highway chief said, "but they are not a cure-all for highway problems."

Sufficiency ratings will not increase the mileage of a certain type of highway which can be obtained with a fixed sum of money, Ress said, but will assure that the amount of money available will be spent where it is most needed.

(Nebraska began using the sufficiency rating system in 1953 and in that time has spent approximately $126.5 million on its roads. This does not include any interstate highway funds.)

More Funds

Turning to the highway program, the state engineer observed that by Oct. 30 this year, more funds had been obligated for construction than for the entire year of 1957.

So far this year, $35,731,886 has been obligated compared to $33,467,387 for 1957. There will be at least one more letting this year, he said.

In 1957, the work amounted to 597.1 miles of grading, 105 miles of concrete pavement, 479.7 miles of bituminous or asphalt surfacing, and 234.1 miles of gravel surfacing.

The breakdown thus far this year shows 583.5 miles of grading, 170.7 miles of concrete, 518.3 miles of bituminous or asphalt surfacing, and 259.6 milse of gravel.

Classroom Use Causes Library To Cut Book Loan Maximum

By Bill Anderson

A recent upsurge in the request and use of public library materials for classroom purposes has prompted the city Library Board to reduce the maximum number of book loans to individuals from 10 to 5.

"The specific intent of this regulation shall be to discourage the drawing of public library books to be taken to classrooms and there used for multiple loan as a school library resource," City Library Director Charles Dalrymple Jr. said Tuesday at a meeting of the city Library Board.

Dalrymple emphasized that the regulation is designed to "assure the fairest and best distribution of library materials to all children in the community."

He said the new regulation would go into effect immediately in the Main Library and all branch libraries throughout the city.

Books will be loaned only to individuals making use of the materials at the library or in their homes, Dalrymple said.

He cited the example of one PTA group in Lincoln who used this plan to obtain materials for its school:

"The library committee of this group had discovered that the classroom collections were totally inadequate for the children's needs during the school year. They designated 3 parents as a committee and suggested that these persons take their library cards into the Main Library and borrow 10 books per card. These books then became classroom resources and were exchanged every month.

"They were able to do this because provision had been made that teachers or parents could borrow up to 10 books on a single card although this regulation had not been set up to facilitate the use of public library books in the classrooms. Problems arise when books relating to a single topic are selected for a use such as this. For instance, if the subject being considered in class relates to Indians of the Plains, it is obvious that they could deplete our entire resources in one trip to any of the libraries."

Dalrymple said the problem has also been noted at several branch libraries where the same procedure or plan is being used to make available to particular grades or classes appropriate materials relating to their school studies.

"It is obvious that when materials were taken to the classroom not one loan was made but an equivalent of the number of pupils in the classroom, 30 to 35, with no record of the use nor any particular recognition of the public library as the resource agency," Dalrymple said.

Also under the new loan policy, the librarian will be able to use his own discretion to limit loans on a single topic to one or 2 if necessary, Dalrymple said.

Dr. Steven Watkins, Lincoln superintendent of schools, told The Star he had not heard of the problem as yet, but stated:

"I know the library must make rules and regulations in order to do whatever is fairest for all.

"Our schools are still having quite a problem in obtaining an adequate number of books to meet the needs of greatly increased enrollment."

School Board OKs West Lincoln District Merger

By Nancy Ray

Lincoln School Board members gave unofficial approval to the annexation of School District 126—West Lincoln—into the Lincoln public schools system by Feb. 1, start of the next school semester.

The board voted unanimous approval and directed its attorney to draw up a formal petition for annexation after receiving assurances from District 126 and Village Board officials that financial matters would be cleared up and that every effort would be made to restrict any further trailer courts or other transient quarters in the school district area.

West Lincoln Board officials explained that their zoning jurisdiction in West Lincoln proper and in a one-half mile border around it would assure restriction of new transient facilities in that area.

It was also determined that the City of Lincoln, with jurisdiction in a 3-mile area outside its city limits would control zoning in the entire area.

Supt. Steven Watkins pointed out that new trailer courts or transient facilities add greatly to the school problem by overcrowding the facilities which are now available.

School Board Defers Action On Fund Matching Questions

The Lincoln School Board deferred until its Nov. 25 meeting action on the use of federal funds under the National Defense Act to strengthen teaching programs in Lincoln schools.

Members voted the delay after Schools Supt. Steven Watkins explained the 3 categories under which Lincoln schools could receive funds for science, math, foreign language, vocational education and guidance, counseling and testing programs, and reported he will have much more detailed information on the application of these funds after attending a Nov. 20 meeting in Denver.

Dr. Watkins reported that for the present school year, Nebraska's share of federal funds for science, math and foregin language courses would be $152,623, which would have to be matched by state and local funds.

Other Matching

For the following 3 years, Nebraska would receive $562,297 for these purposes. School district funds tagged for these courses and not yet spent, could be applied as matching funds this year, Watkins explained.

In the section dealing with guidance, testing and the identification and encouragement of able students, Nebraska would be allocated $43,779 for the balance of this school year, and the funds would not have to be matched locally. For each of the 3 following years the state would be eligible for $121,607 for these purposes, provided the state matches the amounts.

For vocational education purposes Nebraska would be allocated $43,560 for the present year, which must be matched, and for each of the next 3 years, $174,240.

Dr. Watkins explained that: "It would seem that the question before the board is not whether or not it believes in federal support for education, but rather does it desire to participate in the federal program that has been established."

The board will act on the matter after receiving a more detailed report on local restrictions and application of the federal monies at the local school level.

All board members, with the exception of Glenn Yaussi, were present at the Tuesday meeting.

Board Weighs Park Manor School Site

A 16-acre site in the Park Manor East area is under consideration as a site for a new elementary school, the Lincoln School Board was informed Tuesday.

Robert Venner, chairman of the board's real estate committee, told members that the land is suitable for building purposes, and negotiations are proceeding.

More than 120 children from the Park Manor East area are now attending Eastridge School by bus. The school is carrying 438 students, 18 more than its maximum capacity enrollment of 420, according to the School Board.

The school site is in an area south of A and west of 70th. It was also reported that a church group is interested in obtaining about 3 acres of the area under consideration by the school board.

Wreckage In Sea Is Sighted

Lisbon, Portugal (AP) — Debris was sighted floating in the sea Tuesday near where a Portuguese flying boat disappeared Sunday with 36, including 6 Americans.

A British search plane reported the recovery of what looked like wreckage 35 to 40 miles from the spot where the pilot of the missing airliner bound for the Madeira islands radioed he was ditching.

Compromise Reached On Food Venders

Lincoln School Board members approved a compromise policy which will allow the sale of articles by vending machines in Lincoln's junior and senior high schools.

Placing time restrictions on the sale of food articles, the board approved the installation of machines carrying everything from ball point pens to candy bars, with the following limits:

Before 8:30 a.m., approved food items only, excluding candy and pop.

8:30 to 11:30 a.m., no food sales.

11:30 to 1:15, approved food items excluding candy.

11:50 to 1:15, carbonated beverages.

1:15 to 3:15, no food sales.

After 3:15, all approved items, including candy and pop.

Other items which were approved for sale included handkerchief tissues, book covers, pencils carrying school imprint, ball point pens, with school imprint, "pep shakers," school decals, pennants of various kinds, and buttons or badges.

Supt. Steven Watkins told board members that the plan had worked successfully in a two-week trial.

City Junior High Students To Hear Lincoln Symphony

Junior high school students will have an opportunity to attend morning concerts by the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra Dec. 16 and March 17.

The Lincoln School Board approved this year's extension of the program which allows students to attend special concerts for a 10c admission fee.

LT&T Strike Vote Taken This Week

Some 1,200 members of the Communication Workers of America local union are in the process of taking a strike vote against the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co., according to local President Elvin O. Wait.

The union authorized the vote as company-union negotiations bogged down after a seris of 15 meetings since Oct. 13.

Wait said ballots are now being sent out and the vote probably would not be taken until later in the week, possibly Friday.

Working Day-To-Day

The contract, which in the past has been on a year-to-year basis, expired last Saturday. However, employes are still working under its terms, on a day-to-day basis.

Merle Hale, vice-president of LT&T, said the company would make no comment at this time.

Wait said the union is asking substantial general wage increases and 7 working condition improvements in the new contract.

The company reportedly has been asking adoption of an 18-month contract. However, Wait said such a contract from the union's standpoint "would be retrogressive."

'Still Talking'

No further meetings have yet been scheduled to try to iron out differences, but Wait said the union would attend any called session. "We're still on a talking basis," he commented.

A bargaining committee headed by CWA Representative James E. Smith of Omaha, is conducting the negotiations, Wait said.

He said the union "hasn't set any figures." The union also proposed to LT&T that some of the fringe improvements gained in other contracts be eliminated.

The local union members represented by the bargaining committee include all plant, traffic, commercial and accounting employes working in LT&T facilities. The company serves some 22 counties in southeast Nebraska.

Plymouth Mayor Dies At Age 56

Plymouth, Neb. (AP) — Mayor Will Niemeyer, 56, who had complained of feeling ill, was found dead in his car Tuesday after attending a trap shoot. He was manager of the Farmers Union elevator and was serving a second term as mayor. His widow, a son and a daughter survive.

National Camp Fire Girls Inc. Re-Elects Hicks Chairman

CLIFFORD M. HICKS . . . re-elected national head of Camp Fire Girls.

Lincoln Star Special

Denver, Colo.—Clifford M. Hicks of Lincoln was re-elected chairman of the national board of directors of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., at the organization's annual meeting here Tuesday.

Chairman of the department of business organization and management at the University of Nebraska, Hicks is also a member of Camp Fire's Middle West regional executive committee and a member-at-large of the Lincoln Council of Camp Fire Girls. He is a past president and treasurer of the Lincoln Council and also a former chairman of the national finance committee.

The Wohelo Order, highest Camp Fire Girls honor, was awarded to Hicks in 1949 for outstanding service to the organization, and he is also recipient of the Luther Halsey Gulick Award for contribution to the youth of his community.

Hicks is an NU graduate, holding AB, AM and LLB degrees from the University, and in 1955 received the University's Distinguished Teaching Medal. He is the author of 3 college textbooks and many articles for business, legal and finance magazines.

Police See Danger In Loaded Gun As Anti-Prowler Device

Police are becoming worried about the number of persons who are keeping loaded guns in their houses, presumably as protection against prowlers, according to Det. Lt. Robert F. Butcher.

Lt. Butcher said the practice is extremely dangerous, not only for individuals and children, but also for police officers who are called to investigate prowler reports.

"We don't want to see anybody shot by accident," Lt. Butcher said.

Police officers have discovered 4 loaded shotguns during the past few nights while talking to persons who reported prowlers near their homes.

"When people do this, they are more or less taking the law into their own hands," he said.

He pointed out that many of the prowler calls are not actually persons, but are often dogs, the wind or even a banging shutter.

Cheap Process

Washington (AP) — H-bombs exploded underground offer a cheap prospect for tapping rich and largely untouched oil resources for petroleum-short countries.

An atomic industry scientist, Dr. John Grebe of Dow Chemical Co., reported this. He said there's enough oil in the world's deep-seated deposits of bituminous shale to cover the world with 20 or 30 feet of oil.

9 Wesleyan Students Join KDP Honorary

Nine new members were initiated into the Wesleyan University chapter of Kappa Delta Pi at a dinner meeting at Cotner Terrace Tuesday night.

Wesleyan President Vance D. Rogers addressed the members of the national education honorary fraternity on the subject, "A Teacher Looks at Himself."

Quoting from Socrates who said "know thyself," and Jesus Christ who said "Deny thyself and lose thyself," Dr. Rogers explained that the effective teacher denies himself by pushing aside those wordly pleasures which may stand between himself and the goal he hopes to attain."

"By the same token, the successful teacher loses himself in that which he is doing for teaching is a job that does not cease at the classroom door but is a continuing process that goes on whenever the teacher and the pupil come into contact."

New initiates:

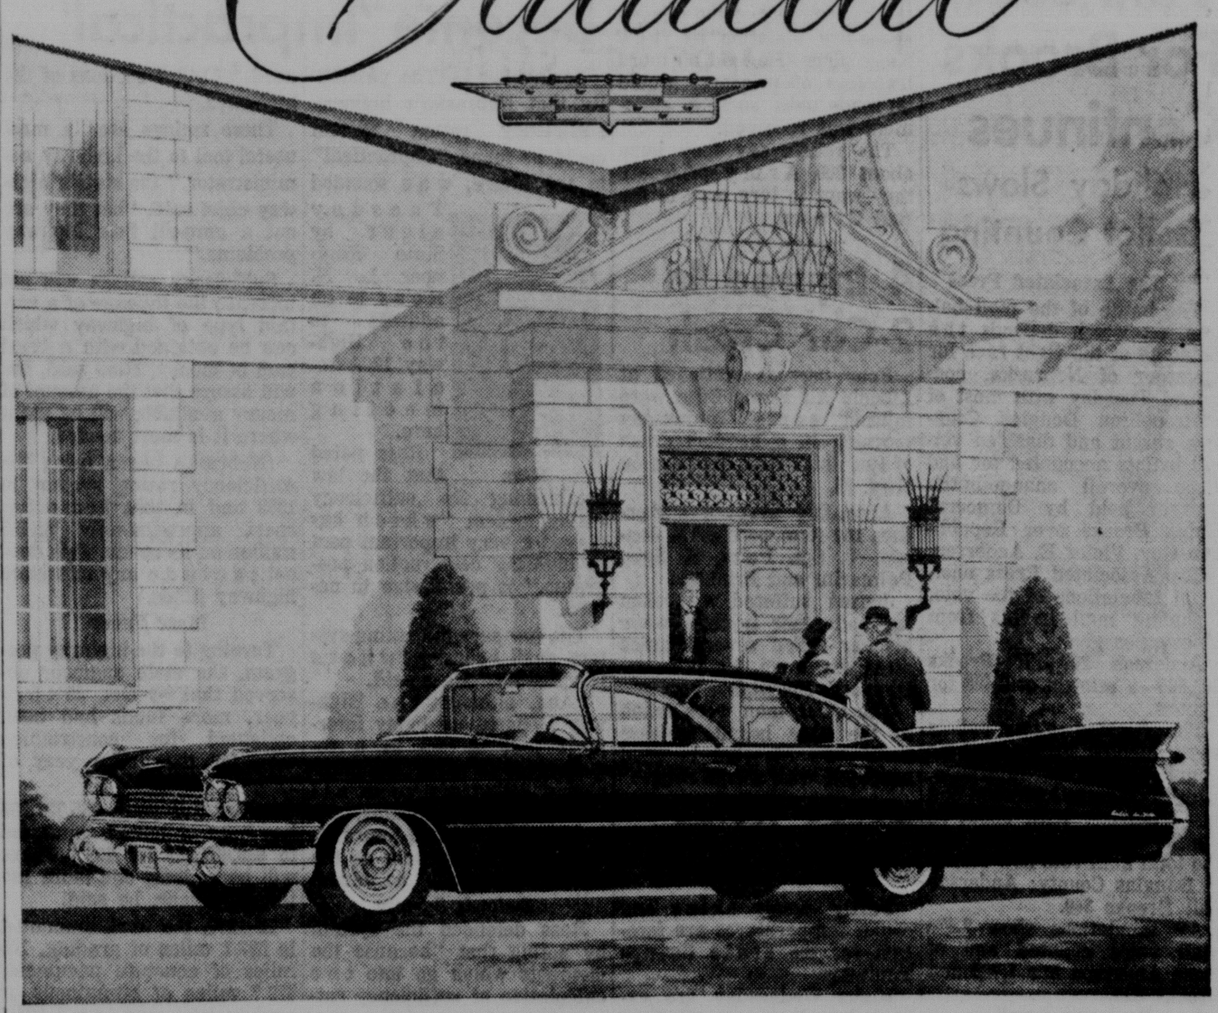
Cadillac



Motordom's New Measurement of Greatness!

The American motorist has long since adopted his own technique for judging the year's automotive offerings.

He simply looks to the new Cadillac car to discover motordom's fullest measure of all that is new and good and wonderful.

And never before has Cadillac placed such a high standard on the world's motor cars as it has for 1959.

For the new "car of cars" has introduced a whole new concept of what an automobile can do and be . . . and how it should look and act.

To the eye alone, it is a revelation. Elegant, majestic, substantial, poised—it has brought a new magic and splendor to the world of motion.

Its Fleetwood interiors are miracles of advanced design. Appointments are beautiful beyond imagination . . . and its fabrics and leathers are unbelievably luxurious.

The 1959 Cadillac is equally inspiring from behind the wheel. Its spectacular new engine, its advanced transmission and its new ease of ride and handling make every journey the most glorious distance between any two points.

These Cadillac advancements have been interpreted in thirteen body styles—including a new Eldorado Brougham.

So if you contemplate the purchase of any motor car in the coming year, you owe yourself an early visit with this newest of Cadillacs.

Sixty minutes in the showroom and on the highway will give you a full understanding of the new way to measure greatness in a motor car.

The majestic new Cadillac for 1959 is now on display—inspect and drive it today!

Southerners To Keep Grip On Most Top Posts In Congress

...Power To Be Challenged

Washington (AP) — Southerners will keep their grip on most of the top positions in the new 86th Congress but their legislative power seems certain to be challenged sharply.

Legislators from southern states — all Democrats — will have 13 of the 19 highest seniority positions in the Senate and 15 of the leading 23 in the House. This is about the same proportion as in recent Congresses.

They also will retain 9 of the 16 chairmanships of Senate standing committees and 12 of the 19 in the House.

It is in the committees, which handle the 1st vital steps in the lawmaking process, that conservative southerners often have exercised great influence.

And it is in the committees where the power of these veterans is apt to be diluted in the 1959 and 1960 sessions.

One Vote

In the 85th Congress Democrats had a margin of only one vote on each Senate committee and two to 7 on most House committees.

Particularly in the Senate, this meant that one southern conservative, by siding with Republicans, could block a bill or get it considerably modified. A small group of southerners could do the same in the House.

In the 86th the situation will be much different. Democrats will have a 5-vote edge on some Senate committees, 3 on others. In the House their margins will soar to 10 or a dozen.

Thus the southerner frequently will find his vote not nearly so significant as in recent sessions. The power of the committee chairman will remain, however; he can shape the course of hearings and delay action on bills, but has only one vote when the showdown comes.

Once a bill gets to the floor, southerners will find they speak with a much smaller voice in the new Congress.

At present the Senate lineup for the 86th is 62 Democrats and 34 Republicans compared with 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans in the 85th. This means there will be 40 northern and western Democrats next year as compared with 27 in the 1958 sesion.

The present standing of the House in the 86th is 282 Democrats and 153 Republicans.

Support Pledged

Washington (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) said he and other senators he classifies as liberal will support strongly the legislative program laid down by Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Proxmire was a chief target of campaign attacks by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon on those they called Democratic radicals.

Tax Boost

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) predicted that the Eisenhower administration would ask Congress next year to increase taxes to help meet the government's mounting deficit.

His forecast came amid attempts by some other Democrats to launch a drive for closing major tax loopholes. The aim would be to bring extra dollars into the Treasury and try to refute Republican charges the Democrats were spendthrifts.

May Take Over

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) is ready to take over as new Senate Republican leader if necessary to prevent a party-splitting struggle between GOP liberals and conservatives, it was learned.

Bridges, now chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, has ducked the strenuous leadership post in the past. But he recently told friends he would add it to his present tasks if this became necessary to avoid a fight.

Waverly Pupils Take A Trip

A short excursion—but for most their first train trip—was enjoyed Tuesday by some 108 kindergarten, first and second graders from Waverly. The young people came to Lincoln by 3 school buses, and returned by train. The travel experience was a part of their transportation study unit. Their reaction was "quite thrilled," according to Mrs. Dolores Mather of Waverly, kindergarten instructor. Other teachers are Mrs. Howard Smith of Lincoln, first grade; and Mrs. Wayne Ganow of Lincoln, second grade. (Substitute second grade teacher, Mrs. R. E. Hoy of Waverly, accompanied that group.) Mothers who also took the trip were Mrs. Harold McGill, Mrs. Hubert January, Mrs. Louis Harms, Mrs. Duane Larson and Mrs. Charles Fahleson, all of Waverly. (Star Photo.)

J. B. Farnham Dies At Desk In Capitol

James B. Farnham, 55, junior engineer with the Utilities Division of the State Dept. of Roads, died Tuesday of a heart attack suffered at his desk in the State Capitol.

Farnham began his career with the Department as a surveyor's helper in 1936.

A veteran of both world wars, Farnham was active in the local Naval Reserve program.

He lived in Nebraska for the past 45 years and in Lincoln 34 years.

He was a member of the American Legion, VFW, and Masonic Lodge No. 54.

Survivors include his wife, Heral; son, Rob Roy of Sacramento, Calif.; daughters, Mrs. Clarella Kreiner, Mrs. Phyllis Horn, Mrs. Sally Gowin, all of Lincoln; mother, Mrs. Clara Jeffreys of Washington, Ill.; brothers, Cecil of Grove City, Pa.; Adrian of Farmington, Mo.; Edwin of Cody, Wyo.; sister, Mrs. Beth Linch of Kearney, Calif.; 4 grandchildren.

Corporation Filings Total 80 In October

Nebraska continued its record breaking level of new business firms incorporating within the state during October, Roland Luedtke, deputy secretary of state, has reported.

A total of 80 domestic business firms filed articles of incorporations during October, compared with 44 during the same month a year ago.

This continued the high level of new incorporations reached in September when Nebraska acquired 74 new incorporations.

"The September total set one of the nation's highs in new incorporations," Luedtke said, adding the September total represented a 400% increase over August.

During October, there were 116 amendments filed to domestic corporations compared with 46 filed during October last year.

October probably saw the largest number of amendments to domestic corporation papers "that we have ever processed," Luedtke said.

The deputy said the majority of amendments were filed so as to increase the debt limit of the individual firms involved.

Six domestic corporations were dissolved in October compared with 10 last year in October.

Outer Space Control

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

American politics is sometimes not very subtle and such is the case in the invitation to Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas to address the General Assembly of the United Nations. At the invitation of Secretary of State Dulles and President Eisenhower, Johnson will speak in support of U.S. efforts to achieve peaceful control of outer space.

There are two things the move does not mean. It does not mean that the now heavily Democratic Congress has decided to be any more agreeable with Dulles than it has in the past. Nor does it mean that Dulles and the President have suddenly decided to let the Democrats dictate foreign policy to them. The move, more than anything else, is an effort to impress upon the world the unity of spirit within the United States on fundamental matters of foreign policy. It is possible that Russia and even some of our allies are wondering what U.S. foreign policy will be as a result of the recent election.

Fundamental Unity

If any substantial degree of uncertainty is left to prevail in this area, it could seriously jeopardize the U.S. position in the United Nations' debate on the important outer space question. Russia already is working for a plan on space control aimed at removal of U.S. military bases on foreign soil.

It is possible that the U.S. and Russia could come to an agreement on the problem if the U.S. sought only its own immediate security. But for any permanent security, the U.S. must also guard against any infringment upon the rights and territories of free European and Asiatic nations.

Thus, it is essential that we not agree to any plan which merely calls for retreat to a point within our own boundaries. The U.S. confined to operations on its own shores would be practically helpless against Soviet aggression in Europe. Control of outer space must be worldwide and effectively safeguarded.

What the Johnson move tells Russia is that there is no division of feeling within our country on the matter of control of outer space. It destroys any thought that a Democratic political victory might mean a change in basic U.S. attitudes. U.S. military bases on foreign soil are not subject to the political fluctuations that take place within our country.

The issue, of course, does recognize the practical aspects of politics that must be faced by both Democrats and Republicans. With a Senate split 62 to 34 in favor of the Democrats and the House Democratic majority running 284 to 151, it is obvious that bipartisanship in foreign policy has been given a shot in the arm.

The invitation by Dulles and the President is recognition of the fact that a Democratic Congress is going to have a stronger voice in foreign policy than has been the case in the past. Acceptance of the invitation by Johnson is evidence of the fact that the Democrats intend to accept the role given them by voters.

It is a healthy thing in that it assures the people that there will be no senseless partisan bickering over the nation's foreign affairs. What has happened is a good sign that there will be no relenting in this nation's objective of a just and honorable peace. There will be no sacrifice of smaller nations at the expense of a few years of harmony. The only place in which any changes might occur are in the methods of approach to the ends we seek.

Partisanship No Factor

There has been uncertainty in the Dulles policies coupled with an uncompromising attitude once a crisis has been provoked. It is possible that in the near future this nation's foreign policy will be much more clearly defined and thus less subject to the endless whims of Communist leaders.

The Irrelevant Controversy

The biggest "whodunit" of the current post election moment is being enacted by former GOP Chairman Dave Martin, of Kearney, and present Chairman Richard Spelts Jr. of Grand Island.

One gathers from Martin's remarks that the Republicans would have won but for the current chairman's conversion of the campaign into a personal springing board for future high office, plus his failure to get the party's work organization off the ground. To which Spelts has replied that Martin's remarks are about what one could expect from a business competitor. Both sell lumber.

The argument is largely irrelevant. The campaign was not waged over two-by-fours. Rather it embodied a rising discontent with Republican leadership as expressed by state and congressional office holders and evidenced by the national Republican administration. To narrow the inquest to the judgment and force of a state chairman is an affront to the sovereign capacities of the Nebraska electorate. It implies that that electorate has no will of its own, but simply wandered into alien corn because its keeper was not jerking on the nose ring.

There is convincing evidence that the electorate served notice on Republican leadership to square its policies with the realities of the day, to get over the idea that it has a vested interest in high office, to realize there is a difference between reigning and serving.

When the electorate takes a party by the ear and marches it to the woodshed it is a demonstration of sovereignty and a directive to that party to correct its course.

The Nebraska Republican party would be better occupied at this time conducting a reappraisal of itself with an eye to getting back into the good graces of the family.

More Consumers Not The Answer

Projection figures by the Bureau of the Census sets the population of the United States at between 207 and 228 million by 1975.

This estimate of growth which has been fairly well substantiated by past growth, has been held forth as the ultimate refuge for an agriculture currently plagued by surpluses — a simple theory that says that all the country needs is more eaters and that those eaters are on the way.

It is a nice way to run away from a problem. However, the theory cannot be substantiated by known fact and therefore does not offer a dependable reason for treating the current problem with a delaying action.

It is significant that during the past period when the population of the United States was growing from 90 million to 175 million the productive acres have remained constant, give or take a million or two acres. But throughout all that time and all that change the nation has never known food scarcity. Rather its surpluses have mounted. It is evident that the capacity to produce has increased more rapidly than the ability to consume.

The Tenth District Federal Reserve Bank sees the problem in even more detail and has added the complicating factor of consumer taste. It asserts that one of the most difficult problems within the problem is the failure of domestic demand for wheat in proportion to population growth. Despite a greatly increased number of eaters the domestic demand for wheat continues at a fixed figure, fluctuating around 550 million bushels annually.

The growing use of synthetic fabrics is having an adverse effect on cotton and wool and the substitution of vegetable fats and oils is doing the same to butter fat.

Only red meat, principally beef, has benefited by population growth. Its consumption has increased by one third in the past quarter of a century.

The Federal Reserve does not offer a solution to the problem but the effect of its study dispels the thesis that the answer lies in population growth.

Foreign Aid Abuse

It would be hard to say from the election results what the public thinks of foreign aid. Certainly, there can be no claim that the people have shown any distaste for the help given by this country to other nations. Foreign aid was actually a very small part of the election campaigning and figured for practically nothing in Nebraska.

But the principle of foreign aid and the program itself are two different things. It is hoped that the principle is always upheld and it would be difficult to understand a nation such as ours which turned it down. The administration of this program, however, could be improved and it is hoped with equal vigor that this is done by the new Congress.

The General Accounting Office in Washington has reported another case of abuse of this program. Its report states that aid to the small Asian country of Laos has resulted in profiteering on aid items and the mistreating of costly road-building machinery. This is the kind of thing that Americans would not approve of, regardless of the value of the program under which it took place.

It involves not only a matter of simple economy and good sense, but the spirit of fair play. Aid is given to relieve a nation at points of stress and hardship. To take something given in the spirit of generosity and human decency and turn it into a racket is a little like pouring salt into an open wound. The foreign aid program is a vital and worthwhile undertaking but abuse of the program must be stopped before its assets begin to outweigh its liabilities.

We can see no reason why the correcton of abuses that exist should be so difficult. The program is administered by the federal government and it is the responsibility of federal officials to see to it that foreign aid is spent for the purpose for which it was appropriated. Terms for the receiving of aid should be clearly understood by all nations and rigidly enforced. Without this, the program is a farce and a waste of money.

GOP Snafu Gives Russia A Break

WASHINGTON — While we were engrossed in Quemoy, elections and football, Russia quietly stepped into Argentina and copped a $100,000,000 loan-deal whereby she sends Russian technicians and equipment to develop the potentially wealthy Argentine oil fields.

This is a victory which would have made President James Monroe, author of the Monroe Doctrine, shudder. It is the first real penetration of a major Latin power by the Soviet, and would not have happened had it not been for a series of American snafus, plus the current policy of making our good neighbors back-yard playmates. Here are the U.S. snafus which helped Moscow:

Snafu No. 1 came during the Argentine election when the State Department took no pains to hide its preference for candidate Ricardo Balbin of the radical Civic Union party's right wing. He had little chance to win, but the State Department didn't like Arturo Frondizi because he was openly wooing Peron votes.

Frondizi won in a landslide.

Snafu No. 2 came when Frondizi was inaugurated. To heal past wounds, Secretary Dulles arranged that Vice President Nixon include Argentina in his Latin-America tour. But in Buenos Aires, Nixon didn't gauge his time accurately. He got caught in a traffic jam, shook hands with too many people, arrived at the inauguration after the swearing-in ceremony was over. Argentine-U.S. relations were not thawed.

Snafu No. 3 took place when Assistant Secretary of State Roy Rubottom, a good man, went to Buenos Aires for another try at warming things up. He suggested to President Frondizi that U.S. firms help develop Argentina's laggard petroleum industry.

Frondizi countered by asking for an Export-Import bank loan for oil equipment so Argentina could do its own developing. He wanted a straight business loan with no strings attached.

Rubottom, however, had strings attached to his own power to negotiate. For John Foster Dulles has made it definite Eisenhower administration policy that no U.S. money shall be loaned to any Latin-American government which might compete with American oil companies. This has griped Mexico, Brazil and Argentina. But it has been firm Eisenhower policy.

Rubottom, thus frustrated, made some counterproposals. Frondizi gave no reply.

His reply came later, in the form of the $100,000,000 loan from Russia with part of the money being spent on Soviet oil equipment and for the salaries of several hundred engineers and technicians. Frondizi granted Russia what he hadn't granted the United States. The reason was irritation at Washington's snafus.

Rockefeller Is Cool To Nixon?

WASHINGTON — What could prove to be the most significant quote of the next two years, politically speaking, bears the dateline of Maquetia Airport, Caracas, Venezuela. This is the airport which broke into the world news last year when Venezuelans greeted Vice-President Richard M. Nixon there with sticks and stones.

Early this week Governor-Elect Nelson Rockefeller of New York landed at Maquetia in the small hours to begin a post-election vacation at his nearby cattle ranch. For 30 minutes he delayed his departure for the ranch to talk with reporters and shake hands with the several hundred well-wishers who cheered his arrival.

The inevitable question regarding the contrast between his reception and Nixon's arose. To it Rockefeller replied in Spanish: "I have nothing to do with Nixon."

It is possible, of course, that the new Republican luminary felt that he was a long way from New York and Washington, as indeed he was, so did not need to choose his words with breakfast-at-the-Waldorf finesse. But he could hardly have been unaware of Maquetia's claim to fame and the fact that comparisons, however odious they might be, were bound to be made, now that he has won control of the biggest state.

Actually, he has from the start shown an extreme awareness of the news angles in politics. One of his first acts after reaching the decision to run for governor was to hire a special press secretary, Richard Amper, a New York Times reporter who has long covered the state legislature. Amper made the journey to Caracas with him.

The attention paid to his failure to greet Vice-President Nixon on Nixon's arrival to promote the New York ticket underscored for Rockefeller their relative positions in the party. Despite the Waldorf breakfast afterward and the polite exchange of compliments between the two men, Rockefeller did not appear at a political meeting with Nixon.

The governor-elect exercised almost equal care in his contacts with President Eisenhower. He met the President on arrival in New York, but his partisan appearances with him were confined to groups of party workers, not extended to public occasions where independent and Democratic voters might look on. This kind of thing doesn't happen by accident, it takes organization.

Rockefeller continues to stress that he only wants to be a good governor. This is the indicated step in the presidential minuet for the beginner. Such remarks belong in the file with those interviews President Eisenhower used to grant American correspondents at SHAPE outside Paris in 1951 and early 1952.

With some bitterness, Nixon's friends suggest that the governor-elect could have gone other places than Venezuela for his post-election rest. The news stories describe the ranch there as only one of his several homes and he could, of course, afford to take in Averell Harriman's Sun Valley if it had pleased him to rub it in.

U.S. Changing Its Near East Staff

WASHINGTON—While the official State Department view of the current tension in the Middle East is less pessimistic than that of observers who predict a new outbreak of violence, important changes in American personnel are in prospect to strengthen the American position in the area.

The expectation is that Henry A. Byroade will shortly be named ambassador to Iraq where the ambition of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic to dominate the whole Arab world is being put to the sharpest test. As ambassador to Egypt in 1955 and 1956 Byroade became highly controversial and he was sent to the Union of South Africa, where he is now ambassador, to take him out of the trouble zone.

Byroade was accused of being overly partial to Nasser. But his defenders insisted that he was merely realistic in accord with American policy toward Nasser at the time of his appointment to Cairo. American policy toward Egypt underwent an abrupt shift during Byroade's tenure as ambassador and he was left to try to make what adjustments he could to the sudden cooling off toward the Egyptian leader whom American policy makers had initially helped to bring to power.

In any event Byroade is one of the few American diplomats with real understanding of the area and with the respect and confidence of Arab leaders. His appointment to Iraq could serve a highly useful purpose at a time when the balance of forces is so delicate.

In the pessimistic view, Nasser's own ambitions, with a prod from Soviet Russia, make a new grab for power inevitable. With the war threat quieting down in the Far East as the China offshore islands recede from the front page, the Communists will hope to stir trouble and throw the West off balance in the Middle East.

It is in the Near East, with its vast oil riches so essential to Western Europe, that American policy and American personnel have in recent years seemed weakest. The drift has been from one crisis to another, with little in the way of positive policy to check the deterioration of the Western position.

In this connection another change is in prospect and, while the decision is by no means final, if taken it would mean a new realism and perhaps a greater vitality. The present assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern affairs, William R. Rountree, may be replaced by Raymond A. Hare, who is currently ambassador to the United Arab Republic.

Rountree is one of the cautious civil servants whom Secretary of State John Foster Dulles moved into positions that are theoretically policy making. In the conviction that you will get into less trouble if you do nothing, Rountree has been reluctant to approve any move that seemed to involve any unpleasantness.

The Near East is one area in which Dulles feels a lack of expert knowledge and he has, therefore, been more willing to rely on Rountree than on some of his other advisers. In one crisis after another it has been necessary to improvise with measures that often conveyed a sense of desperate expediency. Thus when the rebellion broke out in Iraq without any advance knowledge in the West it became necessary to fly troops into Jordan and Lebanon to try to save those countries.

While Hare is also a foreign service officer he is rated as having more decisiveness and forthrightness than Rountree. As ambassador to Egypt in the difficult years beginning with the Suez crisis, he has shown great diplomatic skill. To confront Nasser with his overweening ambitions and his revolutionary drive is no easy task.

The revolution in Iraq last July, which in a few desperate hours swept into the dust heap long-term friends of the West and the pivotal position of the Baghdad pact, took all western powers by complete surprise. The uprising led by General Abdul Karim El-kassem had destroyed the old premier, Nuri Es-said, with his long record of loyalty to Britain, before the West understood what was happening. The American ambassador to Baghdad, Waldemar J. Gallman, was along with all other western diplomatic and intelligence agents taken off guard.

Now Premier El-Kassem is trying to maintain an independent position against the threats and incursions of Nasser and his agents. That, at any rate, is what the West hopes. On whether he can succeed a great deal depends.

Nasser would like nothing better than to exert power over the distribution of Iraq oil and, if he succeeded in this ambition, he would then be close to his ultimate aim, which is to grab the fabulous oil wealth of the Sheik of Kuwait.

The changes contemplated are far from the kind of complete rehabilitation of American policy in the Middle East that many have called for. Yet they do look toward a strengthening of the American position where it has been dangerously weak. And they come at a moment when a new conflict would present Washington with a crisis at least as grave as that of Suez two years ago and Lebanon and Jordan this past summer.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: May I commend The Star staff for the excellent and thorough coverage given on the occasion of the election and coronation of His Holiness, Pope John XXIII. It is refreshing and gratifying to observe the completeness of the accounts and the space devoted to this historic event amidst the reports of strife, oppression and crime that plague the world.

Likewise, the fine and impressive tributes extended to the work and efforts of the late Holy Father, Pope Pius XII were commendable.

The Knights of Columbus in Nebraska join me in complimenting The Star's efforts to keep the public informed of such events which gave courage to the peoples of the free world and hope to those in oppressed lands.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I would like to extend my most sincere thanks for the splendid cooperation given this office during our neighborhood and office registration. We feel certain that it was the publicity that brought to the attention of the voters the necessity of registering, and as a result we had the largest registration that the city of Lincoln has ever had for an off-year election. The reporter who covers this office, Mr. Virgil Falloon, was most cooperative and helpful in giving us good stories on our work.

Sharing The Cost

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We are as much in favor of sidewalks as the next homeowner. Our youngsters need somewhere to play in the immediate neighborhood besides driveways and streets, where there is constant danger of cars. Backyards are fine, but trikes and skates and scooters won't go on grass, so they inevitably seek the streets. And busy or not, there are always those drivers who can't take the time to drive slow and watch for little folks.

So, as I said, we are in favor of somewhere where they can play safely and also for the convenience of ourselves and other pedestrians who like to walk. But the cost of putting in walks is high, several hundred dollars to some of us who are squeezing by on a pretty tight budget, as it is. And our point is this. If the city is going to decide where the walks have to go and that they must be installed on one side of the street only, it would seem only fair to work out some plan whereby homeowners of the opposite side of the street would share in the cost. Probably a 50-50 plan would be unfair, but maybe 60-40 or even 70-30. After all, they will be getting partial use of the walks, and their youngsters will be playing on them and using them on their way to school.

Seward Blood Bank

Milford, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: With reference to letters published in The Star on October 23 and November 5, we wish to explain the origin of the Seward County Walking Blood Bank.

The Seward County Walking Blood Bank was started late in 1954. That same year Seward County gave up the service of the Red Cross Blood Bank.

Members of the Milford Grange Community Service Committee, seeing the need for such a service, began making plans to carry out the project. The committee met with the laboratory technician at the Seward Hospital where ground work for the project began. On three different occasions the technician came to Milford where approximately 300 persons were typed and signed for the project. The names of persons having given to the Red Cross Blood Bank in Seward County were also added to the list.

Members of the Milford Grange Walking Blood Bank Committee presented the plans for the project to each of the other granges in Seward County and to two fire departments. It was left up to each grange to promote the project in its own community, if it saw the need and was able to give the time to such a plan.

The people of Seward County who are signed up on this project are to be complimented for participating in such a fine plan. It is a service from which many people have benefited and will continue to benefit in the future. Persons who have received blood from the donors are without question very grateful for such an organization.

Dick No Abe

Riverton, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Looking over the unhappy Republican losses, Nixon self-consolingly translates that the GOP will have to get busy and sling more Republican bull in order to drum up more votes and win. He has a low opinion of Americans. That's all it takes, gullibly thinks Nixon, to fool the American voters. That's his estimate of democracy.

But Abraham Lincoln reminded that people are not quite that easy to fool — all of the time. However, who would expect Dick Nixon to be an Abraham Lincoln? ..

Army Rocket May Shoot Past Moon

...It Will Have Terrific Speed, Von Braun Says

San Antonio, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Wernher Von Braun said the Army will take aim at the moon with a rocket, but actually expects to shoot past it and create a tiny man-made planet instead.

An Army probe will be rocketed off at terrific speed probably in early December, with dead aim on the moon, the famous scientist said. It would arrive only 34 hours after launching.

Dr. Von Braun

But aiming is so difficult the chance of a direct hit is low, he said.

The rocket would be going fast enough to soar past the moon. It would keep pulling away from the earth's gravity until it was captured by the sun.

It probably would fall into an orbit around the sun, becoming a 30-pound baby brother planet to the earth, Venus, Mars and Jupiter. It would never come home again.

Von Braun said the rocket has a one-in-two chance of reaching escape velocity. This is the speed needed to carry it forever beyond the earth's gravity.

AF Has Eye On Venus

The Air Force has the hardware to power a rocket to Venus, Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever said.

Schriever, the top Air Force missileman, said the arrangement in the Pioneer rocket, which reached a third of the way to the moon, could accelerate a missile to the speed needed to reach Venus.

For the next year or so Venus will be the earth's nearest planetary neighbor in space. Later, Mars, will move to a closer position than Venus.

Schriever said at a news conference there is not much more push needed to send a vehicle to Venus than to the moon, although it is 100 times farther than the moon. The general is attending a space symposium here.

This is because a missile can coast the entire trip to the moon or another planet, once it is boosted by rockets to the speed necessary to escape from the earth's gravity.

Johnson Stresses Peace

San Antonio, Tex. (UPI) — Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson predicted that conquering of the space frontier will yield an answer to humanity's search for a lasting peace.

"Peace is the first and greatest opportunity space affords," the Texas Democrat said in a speech prepared for delivery at the International Symposium on Physics and Medicine of Atmosphere and Space.

Johnson, expected to unveil American plans for joint United Nation's control of outer space in a speech before the main U.N. political committee next week, stressed the global aspects of the space age.

The farm outlook is important. Complete coverage of crop forecasts and price supports appear in this Newspaper as changes take place.

Harvesting Goes Into Final Stages

. . . New Seedings, Pastures In Need Of Moisture

Although Nebraska's continued dry spell harmed crops, new seedings and pastures last week, the corn and milo harvest forged ahead into final stages, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported.

Corn picking was more than four-fifths finished and milo combining was virtually completed, with only a little more than 5% of the crop unharvested.

High winds again knocked off ears from the dry stalks of unharvested fields. Unharvested milo fields were flattened in some spots, but milo combining was so nearly complete that total loss or damage was relatively small.

Winter wheat and other fall seeded grains suffered further from dry surface soil conditions. Root development was slow and winds with low humidity caused the condition of these crops to decline.

Fall seedings of grasses and legumes were making little or no progress and needed rain badly in most areas of the state. Pastures and range grasses were still dry, brittle and dusty in many sections resulting in poor quality feed. They continued to pose a serious fire threat.

Light rains a week ago brought a slight bit of relief to southwest and southern Panhandle counties, but drying winds quickly sapped the moisture supply. Rains last week were too light and local to alter the critical dryness in surface soils, although they helped settle the dust and soften feed a little.

Surface Soil Dry

The subsoil moisture was above average in the wheat areas but moisture is needed in the surface soil to promote sufficient root growth to utilize the subsoil supply.

A little late fall plowing was being done, but the ground was hard and difficult to work. Some soil blowing occurred in the west on light soils, especially where ground cover was sparse. Farmers were busy fencing, providing storage for corn and milo; and in some cases, hand picking or gleaning corn fields.

Cattle continued moving into corn fields to salvage ears knocked off by picking machines and high winds. Demand for feeder cattle was still strong.

Mitchell School Issue Approved On Third Ballot

Mitchell, Neb. (AP) — A $120,000 bond issue for a new kindergarten through eighth grade school in Mitchell Valley District 7, southeast of Mitchell, passed by a 58.2% favorable vote. The vote was 123 for and 88 against.

A 55% majority was needed.

The vote was the third in 7 months. On May 8 a $100,000 issue was approved but the election ruled invalid because the election notice was not published in time.

On Sept. 10 a vote on the $120,000 issue failed of the needed 55%.

A Bit Of Lace-A Snip Of Velvet-Et Voila!

What woman — young or old — can resist a beautifully dressed doll?

Mrs. B. Frank Watson not only owns these delightful dolls, she designs and sews their ensembles from scraps of beautiful materials, drawing upon her memory of village women in France wearing their heirloom finery on holidays and Saints' days—and double checking old colored prints and history books.

The Bordelaise resident at left, in her black and green velvet frock and yellow silk bib-apron, wears a most fascinating chapeau which is all "front" of minutely-pleated linen and lace.

The Bearnaise (second from the left) wears a costume that is most practical for life in the French Pyrenees. Though it's hard to believe, she is dressed for herding sheep in the mountains with a wool shoulder-vest and hood in coral.

At right are two native costumes of the province which is now Alsace-Lorraine. The costume of the Alsatian, a land long under the rule of Germany, shows the influence of its northern neighbor —the full, red wool skirt, the large apron, the braids. On her huge bow of black satin, the lady proudly wears the red, white and blue tri-color of France. Representing Lorraine is a costume definitely French in tone — pink-red silk skirt, apron in soft, olive green and a brimmed bonnet of tiny pleats which at back forms a "snood" for her hair.

The brighter the color the better seems to be the rule for these gay provincial costumes. The lady from Burgundy (left) wearing the tall-crowned cap of pleated linen and lace wears a bodice of bright yellow, a blue and red print skirt, and a silk apron in dark red.

The tag, "Vendee," indicates that this doll represents a fisherman's wife who sports the only short skirt in the collection. It is black wool, narrowly pleated, and comes just to the knees—the easier to get around in boats and on the docks, it is to be presumed. Her cap is a gay yellow and white striped affair with a tall band of lace.

Each doll is truly a collector's item, and though to our eyes their costumes may seem strange, there was usually a reason for each line of the skirt or bodice, or for the unusual shape of a bonnet — reasons now buried deep in history.

Mrs. Watson is modeling a costume still seen today in Nice, on the French Riviera, and worn by flower vendors in the market. The flat, wide-brimmed hat of straw would be perfect for beach wear, and the full skirt of red and white striped cotton is completed by a practical black cotton apron fashioned with deep pockets for holding scissors, twine and corsage wire.

On her lap, Mrs. Watson holds a doll dressed in the fashion of the Basque area, bright in her red wool skirt, ruffled bodice and apron, and laced, black velvet basque. Standing on the couch is a doll wearing a costume representative of the Auvergne district, a coal-mining area in France. A "dress-up" apron of chartreuse satin accents her black skirt and printed blouse.

The doll on the floor is wearing a costume easily recognized — one made famous by the Parisian "Can-Can" dancers. Her full, cherry red satin skirt is banded with black lace and sequins and completely lined with row upon row of ruffled lace. Her black satin cap with long, feather plumes adds the finishing touch.

Pictured in this group are four of the most unusual headdresses to be found in France. At left is a doll representing Brittany in general, the town of Bigouden, specifically. Her deep purple silk gown and pale lavender apron are highlighted by a tall cap of lace demurely fastened under the chin and caught at one side by a large lace bow.

Each "little lady" is clothed in her traditional, French provincial costume, complete down to tiny gold crosses worn on velvet neckbands.

The bright green, red and black striped frock, the fichu collar and the tall cap of lace topped by satin ribbons ending in long hem-length streamers is a familiar holiday sight in Normandy.

The petite "Arlesienne" on the right is an elegant creature. Her narrow-skirted frock is fashioned of cream, brocaded silk and banded at the hem in dark green velvet. Her black silk apron is edged with lace, and the "stove-pipe" effect of her linen hat is created by wide black-satin ribbon.

The Savoyarde wears a head-hugging cap of black velvet bound in gold braid and open at the back to accomodate a cascade of ringlets. Her frock is light blue silk, fringed in black and accented by a full-sleeved bodice of eyelet cotton and an apron of burgundy silk.

Oh, what hours at the ironing board which this cap from Champagne must entail. Close-fitting linen at the back, the headdress is framed by a towering brim of row-after-row of ruffled lace. A black apron covers her printed frock in shades of blue, purple and green.

Also from Brittany is the lady at right whose costume is traditional of the Pont-Aven community. Her bright red satin skirt and pastel blue apron are topped by a black velvet bodice completed by a wide collar of pleated linen. The cap is of white satin trimmed with bands of starched lace.

Town Talk

—For a moment or two we had the feeling that the approaching football week end would die on the vine, and we are happy to report that such is not the case. True, the activity is not the all over-town variety, but various groups will be together here and there, and we hear there also are to be out of town guests.

* * *

—Since there still are a few days between now and the beginning of the week end, we'll take a look at the various events on the calendar—beginning with today.

One of Wednesday's hostesses will be Mrs. E. B. Brooks who will be entertaining her bridge club at luncheon at the University Club. Luncheon places will be arranged for eight, and the group will remain at the club for an afternoon of bridge.

* * *

—on the books for Thursday evening at the University Club is a no host dinner for which Judge and Mrs. John Yeager have made the reservations. Following dinner the group of 18 will spend the evening with bridge.

* * *

—And also on Thursday evening at the University Club is the dinner for which Dean and Mrs. J. P. Colbert will be host and hostess when they entertain in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Jan Chatfield and her fiance, Stephen Leeper. The guest list will include only members of the families.

* * *

—Coming from Omaha on Saturday to attend the game will be Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gribble for whom more than a little postgame festivity has been planned.

Following the game Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wescott will entertain a small group of guests at an hors d' oeuvres at their home. The group, the members of which will dine later at the Inter Com Club, will include Mr. and Mrs. W. Joyce Ayres, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eiche and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sweeney. The after dinner hours will be spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ayres.

* * *

—And coming from Omaha for the game and some of its attending activity will be Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tomiska and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Heath. Mr. and Mrs. Tomiska will be the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hust who, by the way, will entertain the guest foursome at University Club's pre-game luncheon.

The Star In Suburbia

COUNTRY CLUB MANOR

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Luikart Jr., entertained the members of their couples' bridge club on Saturday evening at their home. Guests of the group for the card party and late evening supper were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Severs.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Exciting news from Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walker this week concerning an impending trip. Seems as though Mr. Walker recently was revealed as the winner of the mid-west regional contest sponsored by his business firm, and consequently he and his wife will be leaving Lincoln by plane this Friday for a week end at the Waldorf in New York City.

While his parents are vacationing, Randy Walker will be the guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Sophie Strous of Crete.

A new member of the talcum powder set in Country Club Terrace is Miss Laura Tyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tyler, who was born at Lincoln General Hospital on Wednesday, Nov. 5. Laura has two brothers, Stephen and Eric.

Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tyler, Sr., of Deer Lodge, Mont., and Joshua Vogel of Bellevue, Wash., is the maternal grandfather.

Incidentally, Laura's grandmother, Mrs. Tyler, arrived in Lincoln two weeks ago for an extended visit.

Traveling to Kansas City on Friday, Oct. 31, were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Feld. The Feld couple visited friends during the week end and returned home on Sunday.

Dear Abby . . .

She Wants Wedding Bells!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I read your column every day to see if I can find someone as crazy as I was. I lived with this man for 15 years and we have two children. Not once did he ask me if I wanted to get married. When we got together he had nothing, but now he is sitting pretty. He worked hard for what he has but I helped him. Everyone thinks we are man and wife. I am sick of bringing up the subject because he says a little piece of paper doesn't make any difference. He doesn't run around on me and he treats me better than some married men treat their wives, but how do I get him to legalize my name? LIVING IN SIN

DEAR LIVING: (You are EXISTING; he is LIVING) Perhaps he doesn't realize that you two could go quietly to a clergyman and have him perform a simple ceremony. No filing, no public notices, no waiting. Ask your clergyman.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Our sister is 74 years old and she has money piling up under the Old Age Benefits, but believe it or not she won't collect it because she doesn't want to admit her age. I've tried to talk to her and so have others, but it is like talking to a brick wall. How can we convince her that she should forget her vanity and take what she has coming to her under the Law? HER SISTERS

DEAR SISTERS: Contact your local Social Security office. They've heard that song before and will be glad to furnish you with some convincing arguments.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My problem is an overly neat wife. She gave away my fishing hat and all the fishing clothes I had. She also cleaned me out of every comfortable pair of shoes I wore for gardening and around the house. My High School sweater is also missing and I kept it for 14 years. As soon as I get used to something she gives it away. She says she can't stand shabby things around. How can I cure her once and for all? PLAIN MAD

DEAR PLAIN: Every woman has a favorite extra comfortable old girdle. Confiscate it and see if that does not snap her back to attention.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 64-year old woman who has been taking care of a 93-year-old man for two years. I have never had a day off in all that time. I do his cooking, cleaning, laundry and even gardening (75 ft. by 200 ft.). He found out I could do office work so I am also taking care of his finances. He willed me $10,000 but he told his lawyer he has no intention of letting me have it as he is going to try to outlive me and the way things are going, the chances are good. I draw $250 a month. He is as mean as the devil himself and pretends to be sleeping when I pass by him, but he will pinch me hard. I don't drink or smoke. Should I walk out or wait? TIRED

DEAR TIRED: Your present working conditions are far from ideal, but many a 64-year-old woman would be glad to change places with you. If you can get a job more to your liking, take it — otherwise, stay where you are. Your job will do in a pinch. (P. S. How hard can a 93-year-old man pinch?)

Of Pius X High School

Now that football season is over for most of the high schools, it seems as though we shall have to find some other means of occupying our time for a few nights until basketball season comes rolling along once again. One thing that never grows old with the high school set is a good old-fashioned hayrack ride. Even though the weather wasn't in favor last Friday night, a group from Pius X braved the wind and rain and enjoyed a mighty "chilly" hay rack party.

About this time of the year, most seniors begin thinking about the College or University they may want to attend next year, perhaps in hopes of winning a scholarship. Sixteen seniors participated in the annual regents' scholarship examination by the University of Nebraska November 5. The upper quarter of the class qualified for the test. Those eligible were Mary Ahlgrim, Barbara Beals, Gary Brouliette, Lynn Easley, Sue Glenn, Robert Healy, John Knopp, Ellen McGovern, Patricia Melby, Pat Murphy, Art Ostdiek, Brantley Richardson, Winifred Schutte, Mary Shugrue, Jan Volpe, and Tom Yax.

Among many schools throughout Nebraska, Pius X took part in the two-day Press Convention at the University Friday and Saturday. Pius came through with flying colors, winning places in five out of eight competitive fields, which were entered. Representatives in these fields were Virginia Aandahl, John Knopp, Dianne Nobbman, Catherine Origer, Barbara Prokop, Mary Shugrue, Art Ostdiek, and Ellen McGovern. Pius also contributed to the Press Conference with the sportswriting panel, "Let's Kick the Ball Around." Members of the panel included Mary Anne Gude, Barbara Beals, John Knopp, Art Ostdiek, Patricia Melby and Mary Ahlgrim.

This week officially marks the beginning of basketball practice this season for the boys. All fans are anxious for the season to begin, when Pius X meets Tecumseh High on our own floor December 5. Goodluck to all the boys going out for the team —We're real proud of ya! Let's make this our very "best" season!

PTA's Hear Guest Speakers

A special meeting has been called for the members of the WEST LINCOLN PTA to be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening at the school. The meeting on civil defense will be highlighted by a film, and in charge will be Everett Way, civil defense chairman.

SARATOGA PTA members met at the school Tuesday evening to hear a panel discussion on, "Emergencies In A Child's Life".

Panel speakers were Dr. Paul Bancroft, pediatrician; the Rev. Loyd Bliss, minister of St. James Methodist Church; Mrs. Alice Armstrong, faculty member; and Mrs. Donald Hesse, who represented the parents.

Mrs. Alva Anderson presided at the meeting after which a coffee hour was held with mothers of 5th graders as hostesses.

American Education Week was observed in the program of HAVELOCK PTA, held Tuesday evening in the school auditorium. A playlet was presented by a group of 5th graders, after which a physical education demonstration was given by school pupils.

The evening was concluded with a social hour.

A discussion of the junior high school curriculum was led by Dr. R. L. Fredstrom Tuesday evening at the meeting of WHITTIER PTA. New officers of the unit were introduced and a program was given which included numbers by the school band and a roller skating demonstration by Nancy Arnold. A coffee hour concluded the meeting.

Richard Vestecka of the Lancaster County Civil Defense presented a program on civil defense, illustrated with films, at the Tuesday evening meeting of EASTRIDGE PTA.

Following the business meeting, a coffee hour was held with mothers of 3rd graders as hostesses. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. P. E. Watson and Mrs. John Magwire, co-chairmen.

Up with the birds this full morning. The birds around here are noisy crestures. "No rest for the weary," they holler. "Get up! Everbody up! Up!"

Live in the country and you have no need for alarm clocks. The country is for the birds, if you ask me.

☆ ☆ ☆

Friend of mine is writing a book about life in the Great Outdoors. A reminiscent, down-on-the-farm sort of thing.

There are great financial rewards in outdoors books. Deep-breathing books. Books full of new-mown hay and apple orchards: "I Was a Farmer for the FBI."

Such books combine nostalgia and good living. Patriotism, health and an honest income from the Soil Bank. It is enough to make your red corpuscles pulse.

Allow me to tell you: There is a limbo between the city and the country that Uncle Sugar left unsugared. Its name is Suburbia.

☆ ☆ ☆

We suburbanites do not plow the honest soil. We merely tickle it with a spade and trowel. We are pseudo farmers. (I planted a whole bed of pseudoes this year. But the thrips got them before I could spray.)

In the belt of land called Suburbia, nothing grows. This is a curious feature of this high-priced real estate. It is absolutely barren. Beyond us, the wheat will grow waist-high. In the city, dandelions sprout through cracks in the sidewalk.

But move one eentsy-weentsy inch into the suburbs and you are in the Sahara. It will not grow a radish without a Supreme Court decision.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, suburban people are hardy. The last of the pioneer stock. The type that cut down the forests. We would cut down forests if we had them. We are that hardy.

You do not have to cut down forests, however. I had a pretty good oak tree on this property. And one day when I was out of town, the electric light people came up and cut it down so they could put up a light pole.

There were a few madrones on the hillside. They slid into the back yard during the last rains. It cost the price of a small yacht to have them removed.

This left the old homestead wide open for cultivation. Nothing in the way of progress. Everything up from zero!

That is exactly what came up: Zero.

Oh me, oh my, dear. We have loaded this good earth with Plant-Gro. We have laced it with acids and anti-acids. We have imported earthworms. Earthworms are supposed to work on your soil while you sleep. Turned out I worked on the soil and the earthworms slept.

We had one earth-shaking day when my child came shouting:

"Something's growing! Come quick!"

It turned out to be a Poppy Day poppy I had thrown away in the drivweay. But it gave us a few high moments.

☆ ☆ ☆

I think one reason we fail is suburban ladies do not care for ordinary flowers. The kind that always grew on such real estate. No, they want exotic plants.

"Over here we will put the African chrysanthemums," they say. "And here we will plant a darling bed of wild Swiss edelweiss."

Naturally these plants peek through the ground and can see immediately they are not in Africa or Switzerland. They then die of homesickness.

But if you suggest daisies—I think daisies would grow here. If you suggest daisies, you are ruining the social standing. A country square.

"But we need a formal English garden! To go with the Tudor architecture."

Pretty soon you are out planting a hedge maze. "Just like the one we saw at Stratford-on-Avon. At the cute hotel. Or was it in Germany?"

E. Germany Steps Up Drive Against West

Allies Fear New Berlin Blockade

Berlin (UPI) — East German Deputy Premier Hans Loch Tuesday night opened a top-level Communist campaign to drive the Western allies out of "our Berlin" by charging they have forfeited their rights to remain in the divided city.

Egged on by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, the East German Reds sought to bring the American, British and French sectors of the city under their control on grounds that the Western allies have violated the terms of the 1945 Potsdam Pact which established occupation rule.

Loch, in a speech at Lehnitz outside Berlin, said the Western powers broke the Potsdam agreement and thus no longer have rights in Berlin. He said they had violated the pledges of democratization, demilitarization and de-Nazification of Germany.

West Berlin Reassured

At the same time, West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt assured his people that they could rely on the West's security guarantees for the 3 free sectors of the city.

There was concern in the American, British and French sectors over the possibility of a total blockade of the Western outpost which lies 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, in Communist East Germany.

The East German Communists took their cue from Khrushchev who called Berlin "the capital of East Germany," to denounce as unbearable and abnormal the occupation of the Western powers.

1918 Flag Rides In Veterans Day Parade

Like many other World War I veterans now 40 years older, the large American Flag carried in the city's first Armistice Day parade in 1918 rode, rather than marched, in Tuesday's Veterans Day parade. Seated behind the gigantic flag were representatives of various veterans organization. (Star Photo.)

Past Commanders Elect Beck

Leo Beck Sr. and Roy Boyeson were elected president and vice president of the Past Commanders Club of American Legion Post 3 at the club's Veterans Day meeting.

Small Crowd Offers Veterans Day Salute At 13th & O

Lincoln honored her men and women who served in the U.S. Armed Forces during Veterans Day observances Tuesday.

A small crowd stood with bowed heads at 13th and O as the Rev. C. George Kuhn, chaplain of American Legion Post 3, prayed that America and her war allies would stand united in peace as they were in war.

The traditional 3-volley rifle salute and the bugler's "Taps," were sounded in tribute to dead war comrades.

Military dignitaries and officers of various veterans organizations were introduced by Col. Walter I. Black, parade marshal.

The parade procession included veterans of 4 wars, detachments of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines, two bands and a drum and bugle corps, student ROTC representatives and Boy Scouts.

Nebraska has approximately 162,000 of this nation's 20.5 million veterans. Nebraska veterans include nearly 22,000 of World War I, 104,000 of World War II and 36,000 who served during the Korean conflict.

Last Man's Club Visits Graves of 9

Five of the remaining 6 members of the Last Man's Club of Lincoln met in Wyuka Cemetery Tuesday as part of Veteran's Day service honoring 9 deceased members of the organization.

The World War I group, organized by 14 physicians and a dentist who returned to Lincoln after medical corps service, held its 40th annual meeting.

Only member of the group to miss the ceremonies was Dr. J. E. M. Thompson, who is in Africa on a lecture tour for the U.S. government.

Wreaths were placed on the graves of the 9 members who died since the club was organized. Dr. Arbor Munger, secretary and historian for the club, gave the address.

Each year the club holds memorial services for its deceased members and is entertained by a host member.

The annual ceremony will be held until the "last man" visits the graves of the other 14.

Host for this year's dinner was Dr. George W. Covey.

Present members of the club are Dr. Munger, Dr. George Walker, Dr. Thomson, Dr. E. W. Rowe, Dr. H. E. Flansburg and Dr. Covey.

Deceased members are Dr. H. Winnet Orr, Dr. J. J. Hompes, Dr. C. C. Hickman, Dr. Miles J. Breuer, Dr. Torrence Moyer, Dr. Roscoe L. Smith, Dr. Fred W. Webster, Dr. Stanley G. Zemer and Dr. John M. Mayhe who was the first member of the group to die.

Hoyt To Attend Hall Of Fame Exec Meeting

Ed Hoyt, state agricultural director, plans to attend a Nov. 21 meeting in Kansas City, Mo., when the executive committee for the Agricultural Hall of Fame narrows the field of hall applicants.

The board of governors of the hall will meet Nov. 24 in Kansas City for the final decision on location.

Wahoo is among mid-western cities applying as a possible construction site.

The Hall of Fame will be located in an area where it will have an opportunity to attain national status as a "symbol of America's productive ability," according to Howard A. Cowden, president of the board of governors.

The Hall of Fame, sponsored by a non-profit organization, will honor men and women who have made outstanding contributions to American agriculture. A library and museum will be included.

-CHRYSLER-

8 Plants Closed

...By A Strike

Detroit (AP)—Chrysler Corp.'s 8,000 unionized office workers and engineers walked out Tuesday to support contract demands and quickly forced shutdowns of 8 plants employing 16,400 production workers.

Chrysler said the strike could spread to a full shutdown of its auto-making operations, but the United Auto Workers union, which represents strikers and production workers, moved to minimize work stoppages.

The UAW ordered white-collar pickets off lines at shift-changing time. Thus UAW members would not violate a long-standing policy against crossing picket lines of fellow unionists.

Chrysler and the UAW reached a new 3-year pact covering the firm's 70,000 production workers 5 weeks ago, but left unsettled were terms covering those who struck Tuesday.

Profits Seen

San Antonio, Tex. (AP) — The space age can be profitable, Dr. Wernher Von Braun said.

The space scientists proposed a communications relay system of 3 satellites, high enough and properly spaced so that the entire globe would be within their lines of sight. Instantaneous worldwide television, telephone, telegraph and radio would be possible.

"If this were put on a commercial basis," Von Braun told a space symposium here, "the revenue and profits would be enough to pay for all future space travels and explorations."

Burial In Lincoln For H. F. Rokahr

Burial of Herbert F. Rokahr, 64, a former Lincolnite who died in Phoenix, Ariz., will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

He was a member of the Ernest Rokahr & Sons Construction firm in Lincoln.

Mr. Rokahr, who attended the University of Nebraska, moved to Phoenix in 1929. He was a member of Sesostris Temple of Lincoln.

Funeral services were held in Phoenix Monday.

Surviving are his wife, Anna H. of Phoenix; brother, Harry C. of Rockville, Md., and sisters Elsie and Mary Rokahr, both of Lincoln.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Kearney, Chadron Listed

Antelopes 8th, Eagles 16th

Kansas City (AP) — Northeast Oklahoma still tops the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) football ratings.

The Arizona State (Flagstaff) Lumberjacks and Willamette of Salem, Ore., meet at Yuma, Ariz., Saturday in a game that should end their competition for 2nd and 3rd places in the ratings. For most of the season they have been swapping those spots.

Two Nebraska teams are named in the top 20. Kearney and Chadron, with 7-0 conference records and unbeaten this fall, are the clubs.

Kearney is 8th and Chadron is 16th.

The top 10 with season's records and points scored in the NAIA balloting:

1—Northeast Oklahoma (8-0-0) 180; 2—Arizona State (Flagstaff (8-0-0) 162; 3—Willamette (8-0-0) 116; 4—St. Benedict's (9-0-0) 112; 5—Missouri Valley (6-0-0) 104; 6—Gustavus Adolphus (8-0-0) 100; 7—East Texas State (7-1-0) 98; 8—Kearney (9-0-0) 85; 9—Middle Tennessee (7-1-0) 42; 10—Lenoir Rhyne (8-1-0) 41.

11—California Poly (7-1-0); 12—Tampa (5-2-0); 13—Lamar Tech (5-2-0); 14—Westminster (6-0-1); 15—California (Pa.) Teachers (7-0-0); 16—Chadron (8-0-0); 17—Louisiana College (7-2-0); 18—Stevens Point (7-0-1); 19—Southern Illinois (7-1-0); 20—Northwest Louisiana (5-2-0).

Nuns of 4 parishes in a Chicago Diocese of the Catholic Church—some with tongues visible—let fly in their own bowling tournament Tuesday. The bowling alley owner closed down for the day to provide the nuns with an opportunity to vie for trophies on a school holiday. The habit seems regular—except for the bowling shoes.

American Horse Dropped To 2nd

Laurel, Md. (AP)—Sailor's Guide from Australia was declared the winner of the $100,000 Washington, D.C. International Tuesday on a foul committed by Tudor Era, an American-owned horse who finished first by 3½ lengths.

The largest crowd in Maryland racing history, 40,276 jammed this colorful 47-year-old course. It roared with excitement as the 10 horses from 7 countries fought it out and saw Sailor's Guide beat out the favored Ballymoss from Ireland by a head for second place.

Then more roars went up as the objection sign flashed on the totalisator board. The announcer said that the rider of Sailor's Guide, Howard Grant, claimed that Tudor Era crowded his horse on the first turn. It was the first foul claim in the history of the 7-year-old International, called the Olympics of horse racing.

Bill Harmatz was aboard Tudor Era. Both he and Grant are American jockeys.

Moving pictures of the race, in which tremendous interest had been generated by the appearance of Ballymoss and two Russian horses, were studied by the stewards for 20 minutes. There were cheers and jeers when the number 9 of Tudor Era came down to second place, and number 5, Sailor's Guide, went onto the board showing him the winner on a disqualification.

Garnir, winner of the Moscow Derby, finished 6th, while the other Soviet horse, Zaryad, played a Silky Sullivan and came in last. Zaryad, however, was left at the post in the walkup start, and never had a chance to try and set a pace for his stablemate.

Ironically, it was announced before the race the ultimate winner, owned by A. C. Dibb and his son Keith, Melbourne wool merchants, was to be sold for $50,000. The buyer, Dr. Leon Levi of Philadelphia and a director of the Atlantic City, N.J., track, was to complete the deal after the race if Sailor's Guide came out sound.

Sailor's Guide came out winner to the tune of $70,000, while Tudor Era's owner, Mrs. Herbert Herff of Memphis, Tenn., and Palm Beach, Fla., had to settle for second money of $15,000.

Ballymoss, champion of Europe, was the favorite at odds of $1.10 to $1, and is owned by John McShain of Philadelphia. The Irish 4-year-old, winner of Europe's two richest races, has run his last race. He will retire to the stud in England.

Tudor Era's time for the mile and one half on the grass course was 2:33 1-5, compared with the International record of 2:30 4-5, set by England's Wilwyn in the inaugural of the global gallop in 1952.

Sailor's Guide, first to be invited to this year's race, is the first horse from down under to win, and only the second to compete. In 1956, when Master Boing won for France, Prince Cortauld of Australia ran 3rd.

The Australian, a 6-year-old dark brown horse by Lighthouse II-Jehane, paid a liberal $18.60, $8.00 and $4.00. Tudor Era, a 6 to 1 shot, was $7.60 and $4.00. Ballymoss, ridden by Scobie Breasley, an Australian now operating in Europe, was $2.40 to show.

Mike McCormack Ready For Action

Cleveland (AP) — Mike McCormack, offensive right tackle for the Cleveland Browns, tried out his injured knee Tuesday and pronounced himself ready to play Sunday in Washington.

It was welcome news for coach Paul Brown.

"Not only is Mike as good as any offensive tackle in the league but he's also a leader," said the coach. "He may help us snap out of this flatness we've been in.

"No question about it, we've missed him."

McCormack was injured Oct. 19 in a game against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

With Pittsburgh visiting Lincoln this week, memories of Jock Sutherland are revived.

And the canny Scot who brought the Panthers their greatest gridiron fame in the years before World War II had a football axiom that pretty well holds true these days. Sutherland used to say:

"A football team will lose as many football games as it has sophomores playing for it."

With this as a yardstick, it's easy to see why the Nebraska Cornhuskers are 2-6 at this juncture. The Huskers are sadly-lacking in seniors and first-year men have had to carry the biggest share of the load.

Sutherland made his observation in the days of "iron men"—11 guys who went all the way, that is. But today a team usually has to play with at least 22 men.

This fall Nebraska should lose 10 games, according to Sutherland's formula when it's applied to the two-team setup. In 8 games, the Huskers have averaged 10 sophomores per game on the first and second clubs.

Nebraska opponents, by the way, have averaged 6.6 sophs per game. Opponents also have averaged 7.6 seniors to NU's 4.3 and 7.7 juniors to NU's 7.3.

Bill Jennings' club is also on the short end of the experience if you use only the first 11 players. Nebraska has averaged 3.8 seniors to the opponents' 5.1, 2.8 juniors to 3.6 and 4.2 sophomores to 2.2.

Only in the Missouri game did Nebraska have an edge in experience among the top 22 players, although the Tigers had more seniors. The Huskers used 15 upper classmen (juniors and seniors) and 8 sophs to the Tigers' 12 upper classmen and 10 sophs.

With experience as a criteria, NU should have lost all other games. But the Huskers completely reversed the theory by upsetting Penn State which used 20 upper classmen and only two sophs to Nebraska's 11 vets and 11 sophs.

It's also interesting to note that Nebraska beat the one club which had an identical amount of experience on its starting unit.

Both Iowa State and Nebraska started 3 seniors, 3 juniors and 5 sophomores. Nebraska won, 7-6.

Here's a game-by-game chart of experience on the top two units:

NEBRASKA (14)			PENN STATE (7)
Sr.	Jr.	So.	Sr.	Jr.	So.
4	7	11	9	11	2
NEBRASKA (0)			PURDUE (28)
Sr.	Jr.	So.	Sr.	Jr.	So.
5	7	10	8	11	3
NEBRASKA (7)			IOWA STATE (6)
Sr.	Jr.	So.	Sr.	Jr.	So.
6	8	10	7	8	9
NEBRASKA (6)			KANSAS STATE (23)
Sr.	Jr.	So.	Sr.	Jr.	So.
4	8	10	7	10	5
NEBRASKA (0)			SYRACUSE (38)
Sr.	Jr.	So.	Sr.	Jr.	So.
6	6	10	8	7	7
NEBRASKA (16)			COLORADO (27)
Sr.	Jr.	So.	Sr.	Jr.	So.
4	8	10	9	5	8
NEBRASKA (0)			MISSOURI (31)
Sr.	Jr.	So.	Sr.	Jr.	So.
4	11	8	6	6	10
NEBRASKA (7)			KANSAS (29)
Sr.	Jr.	So.	Sr.	Jr.	So.
4	7	11	8	5	9

This shows that every Husker opponent has had more seniors and all but Missouri used less sophomores. It can also be pointed out that the Huskers had the edge in juniors against Iowa State, Colorado, Missouri and Kansas.

The critical fan will point out the some teams like Northwestern and Missouri, for example, win with sophomores. And this is true, but it's not a common occurrence.

And I'm not trying to say that somebody hasn't goofed because the Huskers have so few upperclassmen. But the fact remains that Nebraska is a mighty green football team.

There seems to be a lot of truth in Jock Sutherland's gridiron axiom. And the 1958 Nebraska Cornhuskers are no exception.

Barring some sensational freshman find, the Scarlets will need a couple of more years to get rolling. They must have upperclassmen and it's going to take at least one or two more good freshman teams to supply them.

At this point patience—and some good recruiting—has to be the order of the day.

I-State's Nichols 4th Best Rusher

Des Moines (UPI) — Iowa State tailback Dwight Nichols, on the strength of his showing against mighty Oklahoma last weekend, has moved to 4th in the nation among the big college rushing leaders.

Statistics released Tuesday showed Nichols had picked up 591 yards rushing in 166 plays. He was also 9th in the nation in total offense with 885 yards in 208 plays.

Randy Duncan, Iowa's fancy quarterback, dropped off in his yardage totals although he called probably his best game of the year against Minnesota.

Akins Running Out Of Sparring Foes

Carlinville, Ill. (AP)—Welterweight Champion Virgil Akins, who never shows his sparring partners any mercy, has worn out two and his managers have brought in two more as he prepares for his first title defense.

"We may have to let him lay off for a couple of days," Co-Manager Eddie Yawitz said Tuesday. "He could reach his peak too soon."

Akins meets Don Jordan in the first defense of his 147-pound title Dec. 5 in Los Angeles. The St. Louis Negro won the crown by knocking out Vince Martinez in June.

He wasn't impressed by Jordan after watching him on television.

"Jordan looks just like an average fighter to me," Akins said.

Sparring partners Wilbert Robinson and Joe Patrick have been sent home after being battered and in their place Tuesday were Ike Vaughn, Miami, Fla., lightweight, and Willie Dillon, Chicago welter.

Yawitz feels the speedy Vaughn will give Akins a good test.

Akins is looking beyond Jordan to a hoped-for crack at former welterweight champion Carmen Basilio next year, with a possible $150,000 payoff for the St. Louis slugger.

COPS WORRY YOUNG WARD

"Sunday, after the Missouri game (which Colorado lost 9-33), I was home talking to a friend on the phone. We were discussing the defeat and the criticism of me by some fans.

"I told him jokingly that they may hang me, but I don't think they'll shoot me. My little daughter overheard me.

"It so happened that a group of men were searching near our house for the man who killed a Boulder policeman Sunday. They were all carrying guns.

"My daughter saw them and came running into the house, yelling, 'quick daddy, hide. They're after you!'"

Schimmel To Press For Chiefs' Entry In Three-I

...At Upcoming Board Meeting

By Don Bryant

Wheels are being turned, slowly but surely, in an effort to land the Lincoln Chiefs a spot in the Three-I League.

Pres. A. Q. Schimmel of the Chiefs said Tuesday he would call a meeting of the Lincoln board of directors to study the possibility of joining the Class B loop.

"The decision, of course, is up to the board," Schimmel said. "But I'm certainly going to recommend that we apply for membership at the Chicago meeting on Nov. 23."

Actually there's little the Chiefs—or any other Western club—can do until the Western is dissolved, but that appears to be a mere formality since league president O. M. Hobbs gave the clubs permission to seek other tieups at the recent Memphis meeting.

Schimmel hails the Three-I hookup as a shot in the arm to Lincoln baseball.

"All information I've received from Memphis indicates that the caliber of baseball on all levels will be tremendously improved because of the reduction of leagues," Schimmel said.

"And with a good working agreement, which we can get if we get in the Three-I, the Chiefs would stand a very good chance of operating in the black for a change. Expenses would be much lower and, if we drew 75,000 people, for example, we would be sitting pretty."

Most observers at the Memphis meeting, according to reliable sources, felt Lincoln has a good chance to gain a spot in the Three-I loop.

If the Lincoln board okays the move, the Chiefs' fate—at this time the Western appears washed up—in organized baseball will probably be settled on Nov. 23.

However, the final lineup of the Three-I, or other loops, won't be officially settled until the annual minor league convention at Washington, D.C., starting Nov. 29.

"The Lincoln baseball club certainly doesn't want to shove baseball down the throats of Lincoln fans," Schimmel said. "But enough enthusiasm for the Chiefs has been demonstrated in the past, and I feel this (entering the Three-I League) is a wonderful opportunity for us."

Six Husker Seniors End Home Career

Six seniors will be making their final home appearance Saturday when the Nebraska Cornhuskers host Pittsburgh at Memorial Stadium.

Some 25,000 fans are expected to see the Huskers battle the powerful Panthers in the 1958 Memorial Stadium finale.

The seniors include:

Dennis Emanuel of North Bend, No. 1 left guard who was an All-Conference end as a sophomore and returned this fall after an Army stint to bolster the Huskers' middle line.

George Harshman of Dickerson Run, Pa., No. 1 quarterback who was ineligible last year. He turned in his best job last week, although NU lost, guiding the Huskers on several impressive marches against Kansas.

Capt. Dick McCashland of Geneva, No. 1 fullback and one of the finest fullbacks in the Big 8. A great team leader, McCashland is an outstanding linebacker.

Larry Naviaux of Lexington, No. 1 right halfback who is a hard-runner and good defensive player. He's been practically a 60-minute man all fall.

Roy Stinnett of Ripley, Tenn., reserve quarterback with two Husker letters to his credit.

Dean Flock of Ord, reserve halfback who has been sidelined with injuries for the past few weeks.

Coach Bill Jennings said Tuesday that the Huskers would "probably start the same boys" who opened against Kansas last week.

Prank Lime Burns Cancel Contest

Swarthmore, Pa. (AP)—Lime spread on the playing field October 25 as a student prank burned so many members of the Swarthmore football squad that the college's game with Pennsylvania Military College Saturday must be cancelled, Courtney C. Smith, Swarthmore president, announced.

Smith said undergraduates spread the lime in the shape of a huge "S" before the Swarthmore-Ursinus game.

The burns have not yet healed and the team physician advised that the players should not undertake a game this week.

Only 14 players were able to practice Tuesday. Seven of the squad, including 5 varsity regulars, received burns of varying degree.

Smith said he hoped the traditional game with Haverford College November 22 could be played.

Boyd, Rivers Sign

Fort Wayne, Ind. (AP)—Signing of middleweights Bobby Boyd of Chicago and Neal Rivers of Las Vegas, Nev., for a 10-round bout at the Fort Wayne Coliseum Nov. 29, was announced Tuesday by promoter Phil Olofson.

Boyd won a close decision from Rivers in a nationally televised fight last April.

AP TABS MISSOURI QUARTERBACK

Snowden 'Back Of Week'

By The Associated Press

Quarterback Phil Snowden, crippled by a back injury and sent into the game in a desperation move, is the Associated Press back of the week for triggering Missouri's 33-9 victory over Colorado last weekend.

The 19-year-old junior played less than 10 minutes in his first appearance in two weeks. But he prodded the Tigers in a comeback that ranks as one of the best of the college football season.

Colorado led 9-0 in the 3rd period when Snowden limped in, his back held rigid by a plastic cast, and sent Missouri's fumbling sophomore backs scurrying on a 56-yard drive. It was their first sustained march of the game.

With a minute left in the third period, and despite the cast which hampered his throws, Snowden capped the drive with a 9-yard pass — it was more of a push — to Russ Sloan in the end zone for the Tigers's first score.

Within 3½ minutes, the 6-3, 185-pounder who had missed practice for two weeks because of his injury, had scored two more TDs, both on keeper plays. He limped 16 yards for the first one, then hobbled over from the one for the second.

Mizzou, now afire, went on to two more touchdowns — for a total of 5 in 11½ minutes once Snowden provided the spark.

Not considered much of a runner, Snowden won the first-string quarterback job as a passer and a strategist. He was injured Oct. 25, while passing for Missouri's first touchdown in a 14-6 victory over Iowa State. He was hit hard on the play, but Tiger Coach Dan Devine called it "good," clean football."

As for Saturday's performance, Devine said he hadn't intended to use Snowden unless he was needed desperately.

After almost 3 quarters — during which "Missouri watched Colorado play ball," Devine made his decision.

"Phil called a smart game," said Devine. "We needed him, and he delivered."

FINSTERWALD PRO GOLFER OF THE YEAR

Clearwater, Fla. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald received the Professional Golfer of the Year award and Horton Smith was inducted into the PGA hall of fame.

The two were honored at the president's dinner, a part of the annual PGA meeting. More than 200 attended the dinner.

Smith, 50, pro at the Detroit golf club since 1946, is a two-time Masters tournament champion and a former PGA president.

Finsterwald, of Tequesta, Fla., won the 1958 PGA championship. The 29-year-old native of Athens, Ohio, was 3rd leading money winner of the pro tour lest year, picking up more than $38,000 in prizes.

Also honored at the dinner was Harry Pezzullo of Northbrook, Ill., who received the award as the outstanding teaching professional of the year.

COHEN QUITS TO SELL SUDS

Denver (AP) — Andy Cohen is hanging up his spikes for keeps — he says.

The one-time New York Giant second baseman, who managed the Denver Bears in the American Assn. last season, said Tuesday he's going to sell beer.

Cohen said he will be a distributor in El Paso, Tex., where his brother, Syd, also is employed by the same firm.

Cohen, 53, is an alumnus of University of Albama. The twisting trails of baseball took him to Waco, Tex., and Buffalo, then to New York as an infielder for John McGraw.

He wound up at Minneapolis in the association in 1932 and stayed there for 9 seasons. Managerial assignments took Andy to Pine Bluff, Ark., Dayton, O., Eau Claire, Wis., Denver, New Orleans, Indianapolis and back to Denver.

Football Deaths Down From '57

Los Angeles (AP) — Deaths from football injuries this season are down 25 per cent from the same period last year.

A mid-season report was released Tuesday by Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, associate dean at Los Angeles State College and chairman of the football fatalities committee of the American Football Coaches Assn.

Twelve fatalities attributed to football were recorded up to Nov. 6, as compared with 16 at the same time last year, Dr. Eastwood reported.

Dykes Named Pirate Coach

Pittsburgh (AP) — Jimmy Dykes, who served as interim manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs during part of last season, has been named a coach of the Pittsburgh Pirates for 1959.

In announcing Dykes' appointed, Pirate general manager Joe L. Brown said he was the personal choice of field manager Danny Murtaugh.

Football Shares Spotlight; Brother Directors Matched

Heated competition and deep-rooted rivalry will not be reserved exclusively for the football teams when Doane college and Nebraska Wesleyan meet here Friday night.

While the gridiron heroes are taking their traditional halftime breather, a second drama of intercollegiate and personal family intrigue will be unfolding on the gridiron.

The intercollegiate competition will involve the Wesleyan Pride of the Plainsman band and the Doane all-girl drum corps.

The family feud?

Director Byron Havlicek of Wesleyan and Director Larry Havlicek of Doane are brothers.

Mr. Havlicek (the Doane one) will parade his array of 16 Doane beauties in a precision drill to the cadence of their military drums.

Meanwhile Mr. Havlicek (The Wesleyan one) will counter with his marching organization. But he'll have to depend primarily on his corps of 8 pretty baton twirlers to vie in this battle of beauty and rhythm.

State Hunting Termed Good

Duck, pheasant and quail hunting have been fair to good in many parts of the state in recent days, the State Game Commission said Tuesday.

An estimated 30,000 to 37,000 ducks were on Sutherland Reservoir. Most were mallards and hunters were consistently getting limits.

Duck and goose hunting was also good along the Missouri River with the best luck apparently between Decatur and Tekamah.

Game Warden Dick Wolkow of Omaha said northern mallards have moved into Sarpy, Douglas and Saunders Counties in large numbers and hunters were having very good luck.

Pheasant hunting throughout the state was generally good and quail shooting was described as "real good" in the Eastern section of the state.

Whitehall Home for Children is seeking junior high basketball games to fill open dates Jan. 12 and 19 and Feb. 2, 9, 16 and 23. Interested teams are asked to contact Robert Rudell at Whitehall school.

Celtics Win

Boston (AP) — Boston's Bob Cousy contributed 7 points in overtime to help the Celtics to a 116-113 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers before a packed National Basketball Assn. crowd of 13,909 at the Boston Garden.

Gob May Miss Husker Game

Pittsburgh (AP)—End Art Gob of the Pitt football team has been released from a hospital, but it is questionable whether he will be able to play in the game against Nebraska.

Gob had been hospitalized for observation of a possible head injury following the Notre Dame game. He didn't work out with the team Tuesday. A Pitt spokesman said he probably will make the trip to Omaha with the squad but it is still doubtful whether he will be used.

Panther linemen scrimmaged Tuesday and sharpened their tackling and blocking. The squad also worked on pass defense.

Wilt Chamberlain Tosses In 50

Boston (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, former All America at Kansas, tossed in 50 points as the Harlem Globetrotters defeated the Hawaii Fifty Staters 94-83 Tuesday night in an exhibition basketball game before a packed crowd of 13,909 at the Garden.

The 7-foot Chamberlain connected for 24 field goals and two for two from the foul line in displaying his prowess for the first time in Boston. His scoring by periods was 15, 12, 11, 12.

St. Mary's Shuts Out Concordia

Lincoln Star Special

David City—With Bill Puetz scoring 3 touchdowns, David City St. Mary's ground out a 24-0 victory Tuesday over arch-rival Seward Concordia.

The victory ended St. Mary's season with a 7-1 record. The David City crew is currently the No. 1 team in Class C. Concordia, last year's unbeaten C kingpin, fell to a 1-6-1 season. Bob Huelle paced the Raiders, but couldn't generate a sustained drive against St. Mary's.

After Dennis Kirby scored on a 22-yard first period jaunt, Puetz went 24 yards in the second quarter and added two more in the final period on runs of 2 and 57 yards.

Another 30-yard scoring run by Puetz was nullified, as was a 72-yarder by Dennis Cole. End Art Nastera and tackle John Kirby effectively bottled up the Concordia offense.

St. Mary's: TD, D. Kirby (22 run); Puetz 3 (24, 2, 57 runs).

St. Mary's Stuns Lawrence, 53-0

Lawrence — O'Neill St. Mary's, unbeaten but saddled with a weak schedule, came down to Lawrence Tuesday night to prove its worth in 8-man football.

St. Mary's did. Larry Tomlinson and Gene Schneider paced a 53-0 triumph over Lawrence, currently The Star No. 1 8-man team.

Coach D. F. Templemeyer presented a big, but fast, veteran crew which held a 26-0 lead by the half.

The victory gave the O'Neill club a second straight unbeaten season, with a 9-0 record for 1958.

Pittsburgh May Be Asked To Play In Orange Bowl

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said Monday that if Pitt wins its remaining two football games it almost certainly will be invited to play in the Orange bowl.

In a bylined story by Myron Cope for Tuesday's editions, the newspaper said:

"Despite denials, Orange Bowl officials have communicated with Pitt and stated that the only apparent obstacle to a formal invitation is the possibility of a defeat at the hand of Nebraska or Penn State.

"Although this writer learned of the Orange Bowl's contact with Pitt, it was not known whether the bowl officials left themselves a loophole.

"In other words, they may have told Pitt that all that is necessary for a bowl bid is victory in the next two games —or they may have qualified the statement by saying that if Pitt wins the next two it probably will receive the invitation."

Pitt athletic director Tom Hamilton issued a firm denial, saying:

"I've had no communication with the Orange Bowl. Nebraska is uppermost in my mind. I believe the speculation is premature."

However, Hamilton did admit having communicated with Gator Bowl officials.

SCHOENDIENST HOSPITALIZED

Milwaukee (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves said Tuesday night that second baseman Red Schoendienst has been a hospital patient since last Saturday, and there is a possibility that he has tuberculosis.

The veteran infielder remains in St. John's Hospital in St. Louis where tests are continuing. The 35-year-old Schoendienst makes his home in St. Louis. His wife was in a St. Louis hospital last week when the couple's first son was born. They have 3 daughters.

A Braves' spokesman quoted Dr. Ray Martin as saying "there is a possibility he had tuberculosis." There was no information on when a positive diagnosis could be expected.

Eskimos Roll

Edmonton (AP)—The Edmonton Eskimos coasted into the Western football final Tuesday, trampling the Saskatchewan Roughriders 31-1 to win the two-game, total-points semifinal 58-12. The Eskimos now meet the Winnipeg Blue Bombers for the championship.

Purdue's Jarus Out Of Action

Lafayette, Ind. (AP)—Doctors Tuesday declared Purdue University fullback Bob Jarus out of Saturday's Northwestern game with a bruised kidney.

Taken to St. Elizabeth hospital for treatment of the injury suffered Saturday in the Boilermakers' 14-14 tie with Ohio State, Jarus also may miss the Indiana game Nov. 22.

Beaver Crossing Thumps Milford, 40-14

Milford—Ron Oswald passed and ran Beaver Crossing to a stunning 40-14 victory over Milford here Tuesday night in a game between two rated 8-man football teams.

Tim Tolle was the only bright light for Milford, taking a 45-yard TD pass and returning a punt 65 yards for the other Milford score.

Brennan's Job Not In Danger

Chicago (AP)—Terry Brennan is going to be football coach at Notre Dame for a long time, Ed (Moose) Krause, athletic director, said Tuesday.

If there had been any rumors of Brennan being replaced, Krause quickly spiked them in an appearance before the Chicago Football Writers' Assn.

"Terry is doing a fine job for us and he is improving," Krause said. "He is a better coach than he was last year or two years ago. He will be coaching Notre Dame for a long time."

Krause said with a break here and a break there, Notre Dame could have been unbeaten thus far instead of absorbing losses to Army, Purdue and Pittsburgh.

The Irish meet North Carolina, winner of its last 6 starts, Saturday and then face Iowa and Southern California to end the season.

"I would rate Iowa the No. 1 team in the country and would vote for Ara Parseghian (Northwestern) as coach of the year," Krause continued. "And as for the teams we have played, I would rank Purdue, Army and Pitt—in that order—as the best.

Tax Suit Filed Against Ty Cobb

Redwood City, Calif. (AP)—Ty Cobb, the Georgia Peach of baseball fame, has been tagged by the state income tax office for $49,197.03 in claimed back taxes.

A tax lien was filed by Harry J. Morton, director of collections for the California Cobb's mansion in Atherton. franchise tax board, against

The lien claims Cobb failed to file California income tax returns for the years 1949 through 1957.

Burwell Captures Trans-Nebraska

Burwell—David Anderson's 30-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass knocked Hebron from the undefeated ranks and gave Burwell a 19-12 victory in the Trans-Nebraska Conference playoff here Tuesday.

Hebron had gone through 9 games without a loss, but a tie in its opening game. Burwell wound up a long 11-game season with 10 victories.

Anderson's pass theft and winning touchdown came in the 4th period. He had gotten Burwell off to a first period 6-0 lead with a 6-yard touchdown run.

Gary McMullen scored the other Burwell touchdown an a one-yard quarterback sneak.

Quarterback Dennis Ahlman scored both Hebron touchdowns in the battle between two big, rugged lines. Ahlman scored on runs of 12 and 3 yards in the second and 4th periods.

Ryff Takes On Perkins Tonight

Chicago (AP) — Lightweight Frankie Ryff makes his second start under the managerial wing of old-time champion Barney Ross tonight against Chicago's newest fistic cutie, Eddie Perkins.

Because of an edge on experience, the 26-year-old Ryff has been gauged an 8-5 favorite for the nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m. CST) 10-rounder in Chicago Stadium. Scoring will be on the 5-point must system.

Lange Fires Ace

Mart Lange fired a hole-in-one at Lincoln Country Club golf course.

Lange's ace came on the 14th hole, using a 6 iron. Lange was playing with Fred Patz, Dick Russell and Frank Roberts.

GILLMAN DENIES HE'LL QUIT COACHING RAMS

Los Angeles (AP)—Coach Sid Gillman said Tuesday there's nothing to a report that he is thinking of leaving the Los Angeles Rams.

The report originated in Dayton, Ohio, where a columnist said Gillman has not signed a contract offered him by the Rams 3 weeks ago and may be planning to quit.

"Let it be understood," Gillman said, "that I am very happy with what I have here in Los Angeles. My new contract has been agreed to."

Ram General Manager Pete Rozelle said it is true Gillman has not yet signed the contract.

"But he has agreed to a new contract," Rozelle said. "We have a complete understanding, but the contract is not finalized.

"It probably won't be until the end of the season. The primary reason it hasn't is that it's simply a matter of time. We have a firm understanding with Sid for the future.

"He said he has no intention of leaving."

Rozelle said Gillman told him he received a feeler offer of a coaching job from someone not officially connected with a school, which was not named. But Rozelle said Gillman told him he is not considering the offer.

RIVERTON POINT ACE PREP STAR

By Al Beebe

Roger Deisley of Riverton has been ripping through opponents this year as he led his club to a 9-0 record in 6-man ball and a high spot in the ratings.

After last week's 6-touchdown performance in a 59-12 victory over Campbell, Deisley lays claim to the state high school scoring record.

Deisley's 38 points (he added two extra points) gave him a total of 307 for the 9-game slate.

Three of Deisley's TD's against Campbell came on runs of 60, 50 and 45 yards. His performance earns him The Star's "Football Player of the Week" award, along with these other top players from last week.

Lincoln High — Howard Strain's running of the reverse play paced 4th period comback to down Lincoln Northeast.

O'Neill St. Mary's — Gene Schneider gained 236 yards in 12 tries, scoring 3 times in only the first half in 42-0 win over Lynch.

Dawson — Joe Chamberlain sparked lated TD drive, and passed for score, to upset Brock 20-19.

McCook Red Willow — Marvin Teel blocked two extra point tries by Hayes Center to preserve 14-12 win, 25th in row for Zephyrs.

Lawrence — Quarterback Mick Pohlmeier scored twice and sparked 25-7 win over Milford.

Hastings — Chuck Matzke got one TD pass and was rugged on defense in 41-6 rout of Fremont.

Beatrice — Bob Hohn's 4-TD show ruined Crete.

Undefeated LSU Passes Iowa In Dunkel Ratings

By Dick Dunkel

Undefeated Louisiana State, Iowa and Army now head the Dunkel Ratings as the result of last Saturday's college football activiey.

LSU (8-0) moved up on its 50-18 walloping of Duke. The Tigers have set an average scoring margin of 19.9 points over opponents indexed at 92.0 for the nation's highest total rating of 111.9.

Other notable advances were on the part of Wisconsin, to fourth; Mississippi, to sixth; Ohio State, to ninth; and Syracuse, to eleventh.

Following LSU in order, other leaders, their records and scores of last Saturday, are Iowa (6-0-1), 28-6 over Minnesota; Arizona (6-0-1), 14-7 over Rice; Wisconsin (5-1-1), 17-13 over Northwestern; Northwestern (5-2); Mississippi (7-1), 56-7 over Houston: Purdue (5-1-1), 14-14 with Ohio State; Rice (4-3); Ohio State (4-1-2); and Oklahoma (6-1), 20-0 over Iowa State.

Strong Defenses Vets Day Theme

By The Associated Press

Americans who died fighting for their country were honored Tuesday on Veterans Day with parades, ceremonies and speeches that called for strong U.S. defenses, in arms and spirit, to face up to Soviet blackmail.

There were pleas, too, that the United States follow a policy of peace with honor and not be discouraged in its efforts to reach East-West accord on arms reduction.

5th Veterans Day

The holiday was the 5th observance of Veterans Day since Congress established it in 1954; it was the 40th anniversary of the Armistice that ended World War I. Abroad there were scattered observances also, including one in Moscow.

Although it was not generally a holiday throughout the nation, federal employes and many others had the day off and some schools were closed. The major stock exchanges operated as suual, although some commodity exchanges closed for the occasion.

Ike Sends Wreaths

At Arlington National Cemetery adjoining the National Capital, President Eisenhower's wreath was laid at the tombs of the unknowns of World War I, World War II and Korea by Summer G. Whittier, administrator of veterans affairs. Other wreaths also were presented during the day, as in past years.

Top government and military officials were present at Arlington, where Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corp. of America, set the theme of the day. He recalled the sacrifices made by Americans in wars, urged preparedness and declared:

"Only with unwavering courage can we face up to the Communist campaign of bluster and blackmail. Only with that sort of courage can we meet and defeat the Red strategy of nibbling and intimidation."

'Divine Healing Available Today,' Lecturer Holds

Divine healing is coming to be more generally recognized as of the greatest benefit to mankind in coping with sickness and other everyday problems, Claire Rauthe of London, England told an audience here Tuesday evening.

International interest among church groups in divine healing—healing through spiritual understanding of God—is a tacit acknowledgment, Mrs. Rauthe said, that Christians should heal the sick.

But, she added, not until the allness of God and the nothingness of matter are actually understood "can scientific, spiritual healing be practiced."

Mrs. Rauthe is currently on extended tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. She spoke in the church edifice, Twelfth and L Streets, at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist. The topic of her lecture was "Christian Science: The Revelation of Scientific Spiritual Healing." She was introduced by Mr. A. B. Wallace.

Postal Clerks Local Elects Gaughan

Dick Gaughan was elected president of local 112 of the National Federation of Post Office clerks Tuesday night.

Other officers elected were: Ferdinand Nuss, vice president, Don Watson, treasurer, Kenneth Olsen, asst. treasurer, Dean Boling, secretary, Leonard Focht, editor and Julius Strasburg, sergeant at arms.

Silver Dollars For Veterans

Miss Mary Hayes of Philadelphia, Pa., World War I nurse who served in France in 1918, receives a silver dollar from Mrs. Homer Brown of Chadron, state president of the American Legion Auxiliary. Silver dollars were given Tuesday by the ALA to more than 200 veterans at Lincoln Veterans Hospital in commemoration of Veterans Day. Auxiliary Passes $200 To Patients

The American Legion Auxiliary distributed more than 200 silver dollars to patients at Lincoln Veterans' Hospital Tuesday in commemoration of Veterans Day.

The silver dollars were part of the receipts from the annual poppy sale.

Spanish American, World War I, World War II and Korean War veterans, as well as some Lincoln Air Force Base service patients, received the money from the ALA.

Presentation of the dollars was one of many scheduled activities at the hospital Tuesday. Activities included recreational events, open house for patient's visitors and visits by several organizations in the Lincoln area.

A new flag was flying over the hospital, many flowers and plants were sent to patients and hospital officials said people "seemed to really have their minds on our veterans."

Mrs. Robert C. Russell, local Veteran's Hospital chairman, planned the observance.

Asama Still Active

Karuizawa, Japan (AP) — Mt. Asama, one of Japan's 5 major active volcanoes, still sent ash and sulphuric smoke skyward Tuesday.

The 8,340-foot mountain, 85 miles northwest of Tokyo, erupted Monday night hurling volcanic smoke and ash and molten rocks 30,000 feet into the sky. It was the biggest eruption since Sept. 18, 1929.

Police said 2,000 houses in Karuizawa suffered damage, mostly broken windows. Five persons were reported injured from flying glass.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Martin, Spelts Clash Over Status Of GOP In State

By The Associated Press

A former Republican state chairman clashed Tuesday with the present head of the party over the status of the party organization in Nebraska.

Martin

Former State Chairman David Martin of Kearney declared the state organization has sagged to the lowest ebb since the late U.S. Senator Kenneth Wherry started revitalizing and reorganizing it in 1940.

Good 'Press Copy'

The Kearney man criticized the present Republican state chairman, Richard E. Spelts Jr. of Grand Island, for maintaining a "paper organization," making good "press copy" instead of directing a Republican attack in metropolitan areas and seeking "personal benefit."

Spelts immediately fired back that Martin's comments "are based on a personal dislike brought about by a competitive business situation of the two individuals concerned."

Both Martin and Spelts are in the lumber business.

"The thousands of Nebraska Republican men and women workers will deeply resent being labeled as 'paper' workers," Spelts said.

He insisted he is not using the state chairmanship "as a vehicle to become a candidate for the U.S. Senate or any other elective office."

Martin unsuccessfully sought the GOP Senate nomination in 1954 following his tour as state chairman.

In his statement, Martin declared "the defeat of some of our major Republican candidates in Nebraska last week was due in part to the almost complete lack of a political organization within the counties."

Questions Workers

Martin quoted Spelts as having said the party has 10,000 active workers over the state. Martin added: "I would question the number first, but secondly I believe you will find that names of people more simply inserted in the precinct lists where vacancies existed."

He quoted Spelts as saying new GOP women's clubs were being organized every 10 days. But "the women leaders in the state simply stated that this wasn't true," Martin declared.

Martin criticized holding the state GOP convention in Alliance this year.

"Alliance is a fine city, and the wsetern half of our state is progressive and beautiful, but in politics when a campaign is in progress you meet where the population is heaviest," he said.

Spelts was making "good press copy" when he said the Republican caravan would visit all 93 counties this year, Martin said. But efforts should have been concentrated where the voters are located, he said. "More time should have been devoted to Omaha and Lincoln."

Martin rapped the speech-making travels of the state chairman — "His job is to organize, not campaign for personal benefit."

And he described as "unfortunate" the selection of Don Ross of Omaha as national committeeman.

The committeeman "should be an older man who carries more prestige and respect" and doesn't need to come from Omaha, Martin said.

Cites Victories

Spelts, in his reply, said:

"I believe that we Republicans should examine the victories in Nebraska last week as well as the reverses. Our party re-elected Roman Hruska to the Senate, Congressman Cunningham and Weaver and 5 of the 7 statehouse officials."

The Democrats won two Congressional seats and apparently the governorship and state treasurer's office.

"The hundreds of encouraging letters and phone calls I have received during the past few days from members of our Republican organization convince me that the work of the past two years has not been a 'press release' effort," Spelts went on.

"I cannot feel that anyone who is dedicated to the principles of our party can in good faith attempt to destroy its organization."

The Grand Island man said: "I would like to point out that I was re-elected chairman by a unanimous ballot whereas the former chairman was elected by a one vote margin . . . These comments by a former chairman who should be a dedicated organization person indicate his excellent 20-20 vision in reverse."

Drive Under Way To Send Youth To Mayo Clinic For Needed Surgery

Dalton, Neb. (AP) — A drive to raise funds to send a 16-year-old Dalton boy to the Mayo Clinic for an emergency operation was boosted $111 by a bake sale here, bringing the fund total to more than $500.

Denver heart specialists last week told Mrs. Opal Dobrinske her son, Kenneth, must have immediate medical treatment. The youth has had a life-long heart ailment.

The specialists told Mrs. Dobrinski there was no equipment in Denver to complete the type operation needed by the boy and recommended he be taken immediately to Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. They warned that a delay could be fatal.

The Dalton Lions Club is heading a drive to raise funds for the trip. The club contributed $100 and a $50 donation was made by the Sidney Elks Club.

Fremonter Dies Of Injuries

Fremont, Neb. (AP) — John Launer, 78, of near Fremont died Tuesday of injuries received Monday afternoon.

Dodge County Deputy Sheriff John Perkins said the accident occurred when Launer made a left turn into the driveway of his farm half a mile east of Fremont on U.S. 30.

The Launer car was in collision with one driven by Robert Matzger of Lincoln, who escaped unhurt.

McClellan Promises New Labor Measure

...Nebraskans Expected To Testify

Washington (AP)—A new and broader version of his bill to curb labor racketeering was promised Tuesday by Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark).

McClellan announced the plan as he returned to Washington to preside at hearings at which his Senate Rackets Committee will explore reports of improper boycotting practices in labor disputes. The hearings are to begin Thursday.

Previous Testimony

He said he hoped the hearings would provide information to guide him in drafting proposals for new steps against improper secondary boycotting. The committee already has heard some testimony that firms having no labor disputes at their plants sometimes have been subjected to costly reprisal tactics from labor unions designed to force them to cease handling products of some other company with which unions were at odds.

McClellan has announced only that witnesses from New York, Texas, Nebraska, Ohio and perhaps some other areas would testify. He has not disclosed which unions are under scrutiny.

Meanwhile, the committee is working on a preliminary draft of a report to the Senate on hearings held earlier this year. Well placed sources said it would feature charges which McClellan himself had voiced at public hearings —that teamsters union President James R. Hoffa has alliances with big shot gangsters and doesn't dare to dissolve them. Hoffa disputed that vigorously.

Most of the year's hearings have dealt with alleged teamster misdeeds.

The 85th Congress adjourned without passing any major labor reform legislation.

The Senate did pass a bill sponsored by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Irving M. Ives (R-NY) which embraced features of McClellan's original bill, but the measure died in the house.

Nebraska And Kansas First Meeting Goals

...For '58 Bonds

Washington (AP) — Nebraska and Kansas are the first states to meet their 1958 goals for sales of U.S. Savings Bonds.

The success of volunteer bond salesman in the two states was recognized at a conference called to draft plans for the 1959 national bond drive.

In the first 10 months of this year, Nebraskans purchased $83 million of Savings Bonds—one million more than their quota for the entire year.

Sales in Kansas through October totaled $83.5 million. This was $200,000 above the state's 1958 goal.

The chairman of Nebraska's bond volunteers is H. B. Millard Jr., president of the Omaha National Bank. Frank B. Heintze of Omaha is state Savings Bond director.

Nebraska has led the nation in per capita sales of Savings Bonds for about a dozen years.

Syria Accused Of An Aggressive Act

. . . Hussein Hailed As Hero After Plane Incident

Amman (AP)—Premier Samir Rifai told a cheering emergency session of Parliament Tuesday night Jordan will accuse Syria of an act of aggression for intercepting King Hussein's vacation-bound plane.

Thunderous applause greeted his announcement that the government would bring the case before the U.N. Security Council and ask Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to take quick measures for a debate.

Parliament then unanimously adopted a resolution giving the government a free hand to take any action necessary in the new crisis.

The premier spoke as the country went on a spree of celebration.

A national holiday was declared to celebrate the adventurous young king's escape from what he charged was an attempt to kidnap or kill him in a flight over Syria.

Hussein, who celebrates his 24th birthday on Friday, emerged as a daring Moslem hero for defying the Syrian MIG fighters and making a successful getaway.

Some officials suggested President Nasser's United Arab Republic—of which Syria is a province—attempted to kidnap the pro-Western king and force him to abdicate in favor of a friendly regime.

Not Up To It

Houston (AP) — They had everything ready for Civil War veteran Walter Williams to ride in the big Veterans Day parade. But the old soldier wasn't up to it.

Williams, one of two surviving veterans of the Civil War, will be 116 Friday. The other veteran is John Stallings of Slant, W. Va.

Old Bethany Library Sale Starts Dec. 9

Bids on the sale of the old Bethany Branch library building at 1551 No. Cotner will be opened Dec. 9, the Lincoln Library Board announced Tuesday.

A new Bethany Library building is under construction at 1805 Cotner. Cost of the new branch has been set at $37,420.

Library Director Charles Dalrymple Jr. reported that in general, October was a heavy month with high circulation, due to preparatory work for National Book Week, large book orders, and reference and student work.

Dalrymple reported Bethany Branch construction is progressing well. The finance report shows that bills amounting to $16,687.04 of the total contract price of $37,420 have been presented for work completed to date.

Attending the meeting were George Holyoke, Mrs. Edward J. Walt, Hugh Thorne, Charles Dalrymple Jr. and G. W. Knight. Absent were Mrs. Arnott Folsom, Elwood Thompson, John Campbell and Mrs. Howard Wilson.

NY Stocks Gain Again

New York (AP) — The stock market leaped to another record high Tuesday in a surprisingly active Veterans Day performance.

Turnover soared to 4,040,000 shares compared with 3,730,000 Monday and about 1½ million on Nov. 11, 1957. Semi-holiday conditions prevailed Banks were closed.

Blue chips and the cheaper, more speculative issues roared ahead. All 15 of the most active stocks gained.

An estimated $2,440,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in the Associated Press average.

The market rose from the start. During the parade of opening blocks the ticker tape ran late. It was behind transactions again in the morning and once more in the final minutes of trading. $205.90 with the industrials up $2.40 to a record high, the rails up $2.50 and the utilities up 40 cents, both to 1958 highs.

Of 1,218 issues traded 704 rose and 311 fell. There were 190 new highs for the year and one new low, a preferred issue of May department stores.

The business news was good and an ever-plentiful supply of cash seems at hand for buying stocks. Additionally, Wall Street buzzed with all sorts of bullish rumors of prospective stock splits, mergers and better earnings which boosted a wide variety of stocks.

American Stock Exchange prices rose on volume of 1,300,000 shares compared with 1,290,000 Monday.

Corporate bonds closed lower in moderately active trading.

Investment quality issues, utilities and rails were mixed within a fairly wide range. Industrials and foreign dollar bonds gave ground.

Volume amounted to $8,040,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange, compared to $8,310,000 Monday.

HOGS STEADY TO 25c LOWER

Omaha (AP) — Demand continued good in the Omaha cattle trade Tuesday although most slaughter plants and wholesale meat outlets were closed for the Veterans' Day holiday. Heifer trade was brisk, cows firm and other classes unchanged. Hogs were steady to 25 lower and slaughter lambs steady.

OMAHA

Cattle: salable 7,500; generally active trade on slaughter steers, yearlings and heifers; most sales strong to 25 higher; some 50 up; buyer demand continuing to center on yearling type cattle but some well finished mature steers also showing price improvement; better steers to 27.00-27.25-27.50 with weights as heavy as 1,109 included at 27.00; big share of steer and yearling run 24.50-26.75; medium quality shortfeds 24.25 down; fed heifers to 26.75-27.00; some held above 27.00; numerous heifers 24.75-26.50; fair quality shortfeds 24.50 down; cows steady, canners and cutters 14.00-17.25; relatively ew under 15.50; bologna bulls to 23.00; veal calves to 28.00; stockers and feeders steady; plain to good quality feeder steers 725-750 lbs. 25.00-27.50; yearling stock steers 29.00-30.00; light heifer calves 38.75.

Hogs: salable 7,000; trading moderately active, shipper demand good; butcher hogs steady to 25 lower; decline largely on heavier weights; those forced to a wider price range: 200-300 lb. barrows and gilts 17.50-18.75; near 100 head 18.85; about 26 head 19.00; sows fully steady, most 270-550 lbs. 15.75-17.25, latter sparingly for extreme light weights.

Sheep: 3,000; all classes steady; choice wooled and shorn 21.50-22.00; 22.25; shorn kinds 21.75-22.00; good to choice wooled and shrn 21.50-22.00; slaughter ewes 5.00-8.00; medium and good native feeder lambs 20.50-22.00; breeding ewes 15.00-18.50 per head.

CHICAGO

The butcher hog supply was a bit on the liberal side again Tuesday but prices were strong on lighter weights and as much as 25 cents lower on offerings over 220 lbs.

The $19.85 top, paid for 190-220 lb No. 1 grade, was 10 cents above the high for Monday. Other No. 1s of the same weights sold upward from $19.60 while the mixed 1-2 grades at 190-220 lbs moved at $19.25-19.50 and the mixed 2s and 3s scaling 210-230 lbs at $18.75-19.25. Heavier weights sold as low as $18.25.

Prices of sows were steady to 25 cents lower and this class cleared at $15.50-18.

In the cattle market, slaughter steers were steady to strong, heifers and vealers steady and bulls strong. Buyers paid $28.25, the top, for a few loads of 1,105-1,250 lb prime grade steers and $25.75-28 for mixed choice and prime with the better prices going for offerings under 1,150 lbs.

Vealers were $31-34 for good to choice, heifers $27.25-27.50 for high choice and prime and $25-27 for good to high choice grades. Utility and commercial bulls went at $22.50-25.

Good and choice wooled slaughter lambs brought $23.75 for a few lots but most of that grade sold at $22-23.25, and the utility and good $17-21.50. The market was steady. Ewes were $6-8 for cull to choice kinds.

Hogs: 11,000; strong under 20 lbs., others steady to 5 lower; top 19.85; most 200-240 lbs., 18.50-19.25; most 250-300 lbs., 17.75-18.50.

Cattle: 6,000; calves 200; steers steady to strong, heifers fully steady, vealers steady; three loads prime steers 1,105-1,250 lbs., 28.25; bulk choice and prime under 1,150 lbs., 26.75-28.00; choice and prime over 1,150 lbs., 25.75-27.75; most choice and low prime heifers 26.25-27.25; prime heifers 27.50; good and choice vealers 31.00-34.00.

Sheep: 2,000; market on wooled lambs fully steady; shorn lambs about steady; one small lot native wooled lambs topped at 23.75; other wooled lambs 21.50-23.25; short deck small shorn lambs 92 lbs., 22.00.

ST. JOSEPH

Cattle: 2,100; mostly steady on steers and yearlings and heifers; cows closing about steady; bulls steady to weak; vealers and calves steady; good and choice steers 25.50-27.50; heifers up to 27.00.

Hogs: 4,000; mostly steady with Monday's close; barrows and gilts 190-250 lbs 18.00-18.50; around 500 head 19.00; 250-300 lbs 17.50-18.25; sows 16.00-17.25; sows over 550 lbs down to 15.75.

Sheep: 1,000 slaughter lambs 25 higher at 21.75; feeder lambs steady at 20.50; slaughter ewes steady at 7.00 and down.

Grain Futures Rack Up Gains

Chicago (AP) — After holding virtually stationary most of the day at barely steady prices, the grain futures market began to stir late in the session of the board of trade Tuesday and racked up good gains almost all along the line.

Wheat and rye were the best gainers by slight margins but the move was general in all the pits and in fairly uniform ranges. Brokers said there appeared to be no particular commercial influence that could have had such widespread effect.

The buying began slowly and appeared to be a mixture of scattered short-covering, hedge lifting and reinstatement of investor positions, probably in the belief that any further immediate setbacks were not likely.

Offerings to sell had been rather meager and there were indications that speculative traders thus reasoned the market would resist any short selling in volume. Moreover, the market behavior in recent days has not created any deep cushion for profit-taking.

In brief, the market has been almost entirely a speculative trading affair for some days but within ranges almost too narrow to attract rapid in and out operations without a commercial objective.

Until the general advance began, the days had promised to be one of the slowest of the year. In Monday's dull activity, the volume traded was down to about 37½ million bushels for all pits with wheat and soybeans at less than 12 million each, and corn at less than 10 million.

Wheat finished ¾-1¼ cents a bushel higher, December $1.95¾; corn ½-1 cent higher, December old type contract $1.13⅛; oats ⅛-½ higher, December 65½-⅝; rye ¾-1¼ higher, December $1.31¼-; soybeans ¼-⅞ higher, November $2.13¾-⅞.

On The Rise

Washington (UPI) — Paralytic polio is on the rise, perhaps because of the public's failure to take advantage of the polio vaccine, government reports showed.

The Public Health Service said there were 2,510 cases of paralytic polio in the 1st 10 months of this year compared with 2,499 for the whole of 1957.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of The School District of Waverly, Nebraska until 2:00 P. M. Central Standard Time, Tuesday, November 25, 1958 for furnishing labor and materials required to complete the new addition to the Public School at Waverly, Nebraska in accordance with plans and specifications as prepared by Davis and Wilson, Architects of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Separate proposals are requested for the following subdivisions of the work:

(a) General Contract

(b) Plumbing, Heating & Ventilating

(c) Electric Wiring

Plans and specifications are now available.

Plans may be inspected at the office of the Superintendent of Schools, Waverly, Nebraska; at the office of the Architect, 226 Stuart Building, Lincoln, Nebraska; at the Omaha Builders Exchange, 2565 St. Marys Ave., Omaha, Nebraska; at Dodge Reports, 4401 North 20th St., Omaha, Nebraska; and at the Lincoln Builders Bureau, 418 Trust Bldg., Lincoln, Nebraska.

Contractors who wish to bid on the work may obtain a set of plans and specifications for their individual use by applying to the Architect. No deposit will be required.

Each successful contractor will be required to furnish a corporate surety performance bond in a sum equal to 100% of the contract price.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty days after the scheduled closing time for the receipt of bids.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check for 5% of the amount of the bid, or, as an alternate, the bidder may submit a bid bond with an authorized surety company as surety, payable to the School District of Waverly, Nebraska as liquidated damages in case the person or company to whom the Board of Education awards the contract fails or refuses to enter into the contract and furnish a satisfactory performance bond in the penal sum of the full amount of contract price within ten days of the notice of such an award. If a certified or cashier's check or a bid bond as herein set forth is not received with proposal, same will not be considered.

The Board of Education reserves the risht to reject any or all bids and to waive any informalities in any proposals.

Proposals will be received until 2:00 P.M. Central Standard Time, Tuesday, November 25, 1958 at the Public School Building, Waverly, Nebraska, at which time they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

President of the Board of Education
School District of Waverly, Nebraska

Near 1,000 To Attend Farm Meet

Approximately 1,000 members of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation are expected to gather at Pershing Municipal Auditorium Nov. 18 for a special day at the organization's statewide convention.

DR. KENNETH HOOD

Dr. Kenneth Hood, former director of extension agricultural economics at Pennsylvania State College, will be the featured afternoon speaker. He is presently assistant secretary and commodity director for the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago. In his speech, Dr. Hood will look at "The Changing Times."

"The Role of Labor Unions in our Society" will be discussed by Matt Triggs, assistant legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Washington, D. C.

The evening speaker will be Glenn A. (Bud) Green, associate director of the National Education Program at Harding College, Searcy, Ark. Green will discuss "Creeping Socialism, Communism and Democracy," and his talk will be based upon personal impressions from his recent study tour of European governments and Socialistic trends within them.

The day's activities will begin with community singing at 9:30 a.m., led by Zane Fairchild of Lincoln, and will continue through an afternoon of meetings. An evening smorgasbord dinner will end the day's activities. The program will include reports on winners of youth contests in public speaking, entertainment, safety essays, and market basket demonstrations; and awards to outstanding counties in 1958 membership and insurance activity.

Creighton Aumni Elect John Head

John Vincent Head of Lincoln has been elected president of the Lincoln Unit of the Creighton University Alumni Assn.

Mr. Head is a 1935 graduate of Creighton School of Law.

The Association, which numbers approximately 185 members, also elected Leo B. McCabe, vice president, and Dr. Paul Heidrick, secretary-treasurer.

Demo Appears Winner Of Last Undecided Race

Marion, Ill. (UPI)—Democrat George E. Shipley, Illinois' youngest sheriff and a political unknown a few months ago, appeared Tuesday to have won the nation's last undecided congressional race over veteran Republican Rep. Charles Vursell.

Shipley, 31, held a 176-vote margin over Vursell, the 77-year-old ex-lawman who has represented southern Illinois' 23rd District for 16 years.

With the votes canvassed in all but one of the district's 15 counties, even a few Republican leaders believed Vursell could not catch up.

Vursell himself admitted "I haven't thrown in the towel yet, but I think Shipley is going to win unless some more surprises turn up."

Reservation Law Problems Meeting Set

A conference to discuss the problems of law enforcement on Indian reservation in Nebraska has been tentatively scheduled at Walthill sometime during the first week in December, according to James A. Lake, University of Nebraska Law College faculty member.

More than a dozen representatives of the Omaha and Winnebago Indian Tribal Councils met Tuesday with Gov. Victor Anderson to ask his help in setting up the conference to which state and county officials will be invited, as well as representatives of the Bureau of Indian Affairs and Association on American Indian Affairs.

Lake said the group was "very well pleased and encouraged" by Gov. Anderson's interest in their problem, and that the governor "offered any and all assistance" his office could give on setting up the conference.

State officials to be invited to the meeting will include representatives of the Nebraska Safety Patrol and State Game Commission, Lake said, as well as federal officials, and such county officers as commissioners, sheriffs, and attorneys.

The tribal council are particularly interested in developing a better understanding of Public Law 280 passed several years ago which ceded to the state civil and criminal jurisdiction on Indian reservations, Lake said.

Purpose of the conference, he said, will be an attempt to get the tribal councils and county officials to agree upon a program to bring more effective law enforcement to the reservations.

The Association on American Indian Affairs will finance the major costs of the conference, Lake said.

Small Change

Attleboro, Mass. (UPI)—Arraigned in a district court, Leroy Bordur, 42, pleaded innocent to 95 different charges of larceny. The total involved was only $700.

Nixon Named

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower named Vice President Richard M. Nixon as his official representative at the dedication of the American chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral in London Nov. 26.

The Vice President and Mrs. Nixon will be guests of the British government during their 4-day stay in London, Nov. 25-28. The chapel will commemorate the sacrifices of the Britsh and American people in World War II, particularly the 28,000 U. S. fighting men who lost their lives in Britain or were buried there.

U.S. Seeking Support For U.N. Commission On Peaceful Use Of Space

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — The United States opened its campaign to round up broad support for a projected U.N. commission on peaceful use of outer space. But the cold war apparently threatens space as it does the earth.

Rival U.S. and Soviet proposals will come before the 81-nation Political Committee when the U.N. plunges into history's 1st full scale debate on space. The Soviet Union has brushed aside a U.S. attempt to knit together a joint approach on the issue, a U.S. spokesman disclosed.

He said the Soviet Union was given a chance to see the U.S. proposal and invited to make comments upon it. But the Russians came out with their own resolution, and told the United States it preferred to hear U.N. debate before commenting on possibilities of East-West cooperation.

The Soviet Union asks the U.N. to approve both a ban on use of space for military purposes and elimination of foreign military bases on territories of other states, particularly Europe, the Middle East and Africa. All this would be under international control within the framework of the United Nations.

Cold War

The United States views this as an attempt to inject a cold war issue into discussions of outer space. A U.S. spokesman expressed concern about the possibility that outer space would be linked to disarmament and thus imperil chances for agreement right from the outset of the debate.

The United States hopes to put in its formal resolution. Co-sponsors already include Britain, Ireland, Canada and Japan. It calls on the committee to report to next year's General Assembly on activities and resources of the United Nations relating to outer space; specific projects for the U.N. on international cooperation in outer space; useful U.N. arrangements to facilitate international cooperation in that specific field.

Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson is expected to arrive next week to speak for the United States in the debate. U.S. delegation sources describe his role as "special adviser."

Unity Sought

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — For the 11th straight year the United Nations called for a unified Korea through free elections. The Communists made it clear this appeal would be disregarded like all the others.

The General Assembly's Political Committee again put itself on record backing a demand for elections throughout the divided peninsula. It approved a resolution sponsored by the United States and 12 other nations that fought under the U.N. flag in Korea.

The vote was 52 to 9 (Communist bloc), with 18 nations abstaining. That is almost the same as last year's lineup and virtually assures passage of the resolution in the full 81-nation Assembly.

Free Training

Accra, Ghana (AP)—Dr. B. J. Gevehe, head of a touring 28-member Dutch economic commission, said this week that The Netherlands has offered to train Ghanian engineering students free.

MUSIC TEACHERS ELECT OFFICERS

Chadron Professor Again Heads Music Teachers Assn.

Dr. William R. Boehle, chairman of the Department of Music at Chadron State Teachers College, was re-elected to a two-year term as president of the Nebraska Music Teachers Assn. Tuesday.

Elected first vice president in charge of convention programs was Mrs. Wilda Reiff of Omaha. Conan J. Castle, chairman of the music department at Doane College, was elected second vice president, Miss Beth Anna Mekota of Concordia College was re-elected secretary and Sister Mary Casimer of Bellevue was elected treasurer.

New Constitution

The association adopted a revised constitution and set of by-laws which provide for membership by elementary and junior high school students who are taking private lessons. Previously high school and college students were the only students allowed membership in the NMTA.

Spring Auditions

The student membership program will be known as the student affiliate program.

The affiliate program will also include competition between high school students in piano, voice or string.

District auditions will be held in the spring of 1959, while state auditions will take place in the fall of that year.

Omaha Next Year

The state winners will compete in the west-central division contest in February, 1960 in Wichita.

The NMTA will be represented at the national convention of state music teachers associations in Kansas City in February of 1959.

Omaha will host the 1960 convention of the Nebraska association.

In charge of arrangements for the convention this year were Mrs. Mildred McFarland, president of the Lincoln Music Teachers Assn. and Mrs. Emma Loder of Waverly.
